I Will Show How New Jersey Shooting, King James, You tube Guidelines And Star Wars Fulfill Prophecy!

Note 4: By denying the possibility of any form of miracle, prophecy, or vision since the time of Christ, James is able to class all supernatural events as devilish, no matter what their nature or utility. His sweeping statement excludes the miracles of God, the angels, and the saints that have been given formal recognition by the Catholic Church. From the perspective of James, the appearance of the stigmata, or wounds of Christ, on the hands of a pious Christian would be regarded as devilish, and a sign of some hidden sin; the miraculous restoration of sight to the blind at Lourdes would be dismissed as a ruse by Satan intended to beguile the ignorant. There is something of the fanatic in this comprehensive rejection of even the possibility of any divine supernatural event, coupled with a willingness to believe in the most fantastic supernatural evils.

The Sealed Book of Mormon

16 And it shall come to pass with those who harden their hearts to this second part, when it shall be revealed unto the children of men, that even the knowledge of the first part will be taken away from them and they will remain attached to the precepts of men<sup>1</sup>; they will honor the Lord with their lips but they will be far from His ways<sup>2</sup>; they will be convinced of their faith in the first part previously revealed of these records saying, we have enough, and we are not ready for more scriptures. From this will be taken even what little of the knowledge they have until they have nothing left but their traditions.

Jacob 5

64 Wherefore, dig about them, and prune them, and dung them once more, for the last time, for the end draweth nigh. And if it be so that these last grafts shall grow, and bring forth the natural fruit, then shall ye prepare the way for them, that they may grow.

65 And as they begin to grow ye shall clear away the branches which bring forth bitter fruit, according to the strength of the good and the size thereof; and ye shall not clear away the bad thereof all at once, lest the roots thereof should be too strong for the graft, and the graft thereof shall perish, and I lose the trees of my vineyard.

2 Nephi 27:20-24

20 Then shall the Lord God say unto him: The learned shall not read them, for they have rejected them, and I am able to do mine own work; wherefore thou shalt read the words which I shall give unto thee.

21 Touch not the things which are sealed, for I will bring them forth in mine own due time; for I will show unto the children of men that I am able to do mine own work.

22 Wherefore, when thou hast read the words which I have commanded thee, and obtained the witnesses which I have promised unto thee, then shalt thou seal up the book again, and hide it up unto me, that I may preserve the words which thou hast not read, until I shall see fit in mine own wisdom to reveal all things unto the children of men.

23 For behold, I am God; and I am a God of miracles; and I will show unto the world that I am the same yesterday, today, and forever; and I work not among the children of men save it be according to their faith.

24 And again it shall come to pass that the Lord shall say unto him that shall read the words that shall be delivered him:

2 Nephi 28:24-32

24 Therefore, wo be unto him that is at ease in Zion!

25 Wo be unto him that crieth: All is well!

26 Yea, wo be unto him that hearkeneth unto the precepts of men, and denieth the power of God, and the gift of the Holy Ghost!

27 Yea, wo be unto him that saith: We have received, and we need no more!

28 And in fine, wo unto all those who tremble, and are angry because of the truth of God! For behold, he that is built upon the rock receiveth it with gladness; and he that is built upon a sandy foundation trembleth lest he shall fall.

29 Wo be unto him that shall say: We have received the word of God, and we need no more of the word of God, for we have enough!

30 For behold, thus saith the Lord God: I will give unto the children of men line upon line, precept upon precept, here a little and there a little; and blessed are those who hearken unto my precepts, and lend an ear unto my counsel, for they shall learn wisdom; for unto him that receiveth I will give more; and from them that shall say, We have enough, from them shall be taken away even that which they have.

31 Cursed is he that putteth his trust in man, or maketh flesh his arm, or shall hearken unto the precepts of men, save their precepts shall be given by the power of the Holy Ghost.

32 Wo be unto the Gentiles, saith the Lord God of Hosts! For notwithstanding I shall lengthen out mine arm unto them from day to day, they will deny me; nevertheless, I will be merciful unto them, saith the Lord God, if they will repent and come unto me; for mine arm is lengthened out all the day long, saith the Lord God of Hosts.

White Bearded Men Taught The Natives All They Knew Over Here In The Americas, Destroyed In 20 Min!!

“The ancient Hebrew prophets attained a profound knowledge of the stars and planets by direct revelation from heaven; for example, the Lord appeared to Abraham and gave him power to look into space as if he were using a modern telescope. The Lord showed Abraham a marvelous vision of the numerous works he had created and explained the various heavenly bodies at which Abraham was looking. The ancient prophet wrote: “I saw the stars that they were very great...and they multiplied before mine eyes, and I could not see the end thereof.” The Lord explained to the ancient patriarch the times, seasons, and the laws which govern the solar systems. The knowledge of astronomy received by Father Abraham and recorded for his posterity is in complete agreement with modern astronomical science.

Moses also received revelations from the Lord regarding astronomy and a vision of the heavenly bodies--God's creations--similar to those received by Abraham.

“In their scriptures these ancient Hebrew patriarchs handed down their knowledge of astronomy to their posterity. The Nephites brought the Hebrew scriptures with them from the Holy City to the New World; and so one is not surprised to find such statements in the Book of Mormon as the following; “...and it appeareth unto man that the sun standeth still; yea, and behold, that is not so; for surely it is the earth that moveth and not the sun.” Perhaps the basic ideas on astronomy which the Nephites had were handed down to the Mayas.

Dr. J. Eric S. Thompson gives an elaborate discussion of the Maya philosophy of time. In it he states:

“So far of this general outlook on life is concerned, the great men of Athens would not have felt out of place in the gathering of Maya priests and rulers, but had the conversation turned on the subject of the philosophical aspects of time, the Athenians--or, for that matter, representatives of any of the great civilizations of history--would have been at sea. No other people in history has taken such an absorbing interest in time as did the Maya, and no other culture “ has ever developed a philosophy embracing such an unusual subject...

For the Maya time was an all-consuming interest. Every stela and altar was erected to mark the passage of time and was dedicated at the end of a period.”

A little later in his book Dr. Thompson wrote:

...the Maya idea of the eternity of time was noble and the Maya scheme the road over which time had marched stretched into a path so distant that the mind of men cannot comprehend its remoteness indeed we can feel rather confident that the Maya concluded that time had no beginning...

It is not surprising that the ancient Maya's considered time to be eternal, since that fact was revealed to one of their ancestors, Father Abraham. The ancient patriarch was also told by the Lord that space and matter have no beginning and no end; in other words they are all eternal. pg 87-89 Archaeology and the Book of Mormon, Milton R. Hunter

What A Negro Is Not Supposed to Know

Starting with the Spanish Inquisition in 1478, the White European Franciscan brotherhood of the Catholic Church designed a plan to expel all Africans or black Moors and Muslims from out of Spain. Included in their plan was to work to gain world power and destroy the existence of black people's domination of the world and black people's achievements, and destroy or cover up all the ancient records, books, monuments, statues, and things that prove that black people were the originators of all great ancient civilizations throughout the four corners of the earth.

Much of black people's ancient history was not destroyed but covered up because it was needed to educate Europe into the ways of civilization; and whites treasured it and kept it in museums and private collections. However, the Franciscan brotherhood of the Catholic Church was successful in their plan, and once they came into power they untied all the European rulers, kings, governors, academics, business persons,...Unknown

The 100,000 Giant War!! The War Of All Wars, That Was Waged Between Og And Nimrod

And they begat sons the Nephilym, and they were all unlike, and they devoured one another: and the Giants slew the Nephilyl, and the Nephilyl slew the Elyo, and the Elyo mankind, and one man another.

YOVHELIYM (JUBILEES) 7:22 תא CEPHER

There were the Nephilym famous from the beginning, that were of so great stature, and so expert in war. BARUK RI·SHON (1 BARUK)

3:26 תא CEPHER

This is the telling of the Hundred Thousand [Giant] War as transcribed by both Anak the Keeper of the Bodies before Baal and Onzal the Slayer the Smaller Selves Before Baal of the moon. These are the deeds of the [giants] who fought with King Og against Nimrod. For our days were passed in wrath and our was is the [tale that is told].

King Og sent throughout the all the [known] world [for] uncircumcised Rephaim to fight Nimrod and his circumcised [army].

And the word went forth to every outpost of [giants], and they came - the six-fingered, the mountain builders, the [heavy] weapon makers from the cold lands, the Dragon Siblings from the [east] and the twenty thousand [giants] that came with them. All in all, one hundred thousand [giants], representing every [colony, color and creed] in the [known] world.

Then King Og anointed his seven braids and beard with oil. He stood before one hundred thousand of them all in the high place of Baal of the earth and looking over his warriors and kingdom he screamed with a voice that all Rephaim heard, "For Baal of the earth and for the loss of the [Moonchild] we go to war. (The Moonchild is discussed in The Lost Bool of King Og)

And when the moon was [full] next, war broke out between Og's and Nimrod's kingdom. Og and his {giants} fought against the circumcised, and the circumcised and Nimrod fought back. The Rephaim were driven on by the death of the {Moonchild}, and their hatred of circumcised [hardened] their [resolve].

These are the Rephaim of [significant] stature that fought with King Og on the field of battle of The hundred Thousand [Giant] War: pg. 25

There has been no [violence] likened to The Hundred Thousand [Giant] War before or since: pg 55

And they brought up an evil report of the land which they had searched unto the children of Yashar'el, saying, The land, through which we have gone to search it, is a land that eats up the inhabitants thereof; and all the people that we saw in it are men of a great stature. And there we saw אֶת־הַנֶּפְחִיִּים the Nephilym, the sons of Anaq, which come of the Nephilym: and we were in our own sight as grasshoppers, and so we were in their sight. BEMIDBAR (NUMBERS) 13:32-33 אֶת־הַנֶּפְחִיִּים CEPHER

The Lands of Many Waters, The Great Lakes pg 8-9

The earliest white men to penetrate the region described it as a paradise for the Indians, where only the most powerful nations of warriors could remain. The physical features of Rama Kumara lured both animals and men on abundance of grasses found in the fertile valleys and plains a vast variety of timber abounded including sugar and other maples, oak hickory, black walnut, chestnut, ash of different kinds, elm, butternut, basswood, poplar, pines thorn trees of a prodigious size. A variety of fruit trees such as apple, peach, mulberry, black haz, grapes of every kinds, raspberries, blackberries, cranberries, etc.

Wild animals and abundance were to be found when the first white man penetrated this choice region, such as deer, moose, elk, beavers, otters, minks, martins, rabbits, squirrels, raccoons, bear, wildcats, panthers all of which furnished pelts and meat. Champlain and the early trailblazers were amazed at the great number of fowl and fish, turkeys, pheasants, partridges, pigeons, clovers, heath fowl, Indian hen, wild geese, and ducks and the many streams and lake were salmon trout, white and yellow perch, sheep heads pike, suckers, larger eel, and many others. As early as 1615, Champlain visited the land of many waters, though he ha been favorably impressed with much of the country he had seen in the America he considered this the heart of New France. From his flattering description of this favored land we glean these comments from his letters, "I never saw so many deer. We saw in diverse quarters immense herds of wild bulls and cows. Their horns resembling in some respects the antlers of a stag. Our game does not leave us it seems that venison and game follow us everywhere, large droves plunge into the lake it to meet us. Some were killed for the sake of amusement by blows of an axe. At the side of the rapids we perceived a herd of wild cows, which we were passing at their ease in the great state, five or six hundred or scene sometime in these regions in one drove. Frontenac and the other early explorers described this region has the best they had ever seen in the new world. One early explorer said that in the early spring months when the lakes and streams abounded with waterfowl and wild pigeons coming in such mighty flocks so thick that they darkened the sky like clouds and upon trees broke the branches by their very weight.

These same natural resources that attracted the most powerful warriors among the Indian tribes lured the Jaredites and Nephites to this fruitful area. There is an abundance of evidence of an ancient aboriginal occupation and that favored land the chief monuments on being the remain of fortifications that attest the skill of the builders. These ancient relics together with the evidence of an extensive and ancient warfare in that region are tokens of a highly civilized nation that thrived and perished in that historic land. This vast array of evidence tells the scientists who have studied it a story of bitter warfare the saga of a great nation being exterminated in the land of many waters. The accounts related by the historians and archeologists sound very much like the stories told in the Book of Mormon; about the battles that took place in that favorite region. pg (?)

The oldest fortifications do not appear close to the southern shore of Lake Ontario, because it is thought that the lake was much larger then than it is now. Turner has a long discussion of this subject, pointing out that Lake Ontario has receded from its elevated ground. On the south side of the ridge nearest the lake, he assures us, and on the hills in the vicinity, are to be found remains of fortifications, yet north of the ridge and beyond to the lake-shore, not a single fort is to be found, thus indicating that the fortified ridge marked the ancient shore of Lake Ontario, where, perhaps 2,000 years ago, great battle was fought.

At that distant time, Turner argues, a great part of North America was inhabited by populous nations, highly civilized. "These numerous works could not have been supplied provisions without the aid of agriculture, nor could they have been constructed without the use of iron or copper."

The book of Ether (15:26) declares that the Jaredite warriors were men of great stature. When Limhi's scouts found the remains of the Jaredites they were impressed with the 'large breastplates' which they found among the ruins. So impressed were they with these large metal protectors, that they carried some of them home with them. These were made of brass and copper "and were perfectly sound." Surely, these were the first people to work the copper mines near Lake Superior.

It is significant how the scientists have verified this fact finding many giant skeletons among the oldest ruins. Turner mentions a skeleton being found at Aurora which indicate great height exceeding by several inches that of the tallest of our race. This was found in the theater of the sanguinary battle terminating in favor of the assailants. pg 11

Harvey Rice describes the ancient burial ground that was uncovered in 1800, concerning the giant skeletons uncovered in the mound we read. Human bones of gigantic proportions were discovered in such a state of preservation as to accurately described and measured. The cavities of the skulls were large enough in their dimensions to receive the entire head of a man of modern times, and could be put on one's head with as much ease as a hat or cap. The jaw-bones were sufficiently large to admit of being placed so as to match or fit the outside of a modern man's face. The other bones, so far as discovered, appeared to be of equal proportions with the skulls and jaw-bones, several of which have been preserved as relics in the cabinets of antiquarians, where they may still be seen.

He concludes that a race of gigantic men once existed on this continent in the remote ages following the mastodon and the sourian. "Both plant and animal life assumed in many instances huge proportions, and in all probability, included in successive ages huge men." He assures us that these early people had acquired the art of manufacturing "edge-tools of copper and of tempering them that they would cut about as well as our modern steel implements."

Squire mentions a legend preserved by the Iroquois that in a certain burial mound is the skeleton of a powerful giant.

The first two chapters in the History of Cayuga County are filled with accounts of the people who built the forts whose remains are found in that area. "Different races have been born and swept away successively," he is convinced, "around the same spot where dwelt a race considerably advanced in civilization."

Cayuga County yielded a rich harvest of giant skeletons among the ancient ruins, of which we read that "entire skeletons have been found of people of giant proportions, the skulls and jawbones of which could cover the head and face of the most fleshy person of our day." We are told of a tradition which asserts that a destructive war was waged "in this very section of the country, “and with such fury and determination on each side that practically all of the warriors were slaughtered.”

Erie County has yielded a vast store of ancient monuments, including many giant skeletons, spear-points, war hatchets, and other weapons that seem too large for an average sized man to wield. Bones of “giant size” have been uncovered. Similar discoveries have been made in Ontario County, “Skeletons of an early age, including many of unusual size have been found.”

Tuner saw many of the giant skeletons that have been found in the land of many waters. He mentions “thigh bones which would indicate great height exceeding by several inches the tallest of our race,” and that many of the skeletons found at LeRoy, Batavia, and other forts in that area “averaged one-third larger than the present race.”

In 1922 “on the Rose farm, one half mile from Mormon Hill” a number of large skeletons, stone implements, copper ornaments, a copper axe of unusual type, and other articles were found. At this historic spot were found “many of unusual physique, tall, long-limbed, finely formed skulls, teeth finely shaped.”

CHAPTER 7. - THE FINAL WORDS OF OG [WORDS TO MOSES]

Did you think, O [corrupt worm] of [Israel], that I did not stand above [...the great water..] in the [mountains]? You who have never touched the sky or stood [tall] over anyone. My meditation [my dreams] are your [loose-bowled] [death]. Baal of the earth will guide me like he did with Nimrod [the mangled [loined] Nephilim, worm. Behold, I am Og, the largest man in the land. What can you possibly to me? Are you [prepared to die]?

DEMMON

I have watched you [...] crawl into the [light] as a corrupt [fecal worm]. I have watched your mother Egypt [...] eat your young. I watch now and I [ponder] is this why you now war with me, O [worm] of Israel? [You have slain my neighbor in Sihon. Baal will avenge [...] and [...empower me...] to sever the corrupt [worm] with force. [...your false god...your weak [little] men...] I Og will spit upon your warriors who trail like ants [...beneath...][feces]. I Og will [wipe ] the spittle from my beard. I Og will arise when ready. [...] and with [the strength in] but one arm I Og will [break] all the [horn] of [Israel].

Are the tales of my [exploits] not [traveling] to your itching ears O corrupt [fecal worm] of {Israel}?Of my power? [...of how I Og did battle...] against the [unspeakable] sealed [monsters] in the renowned fields alongside my [Nephilim and Rephaim] parentage? [...how we moulded to murder...]. How we turned our wrath [...mercy...a foreigner...] where the O bitter, [blackened] corrupt [fecal worm]. Did not my [royal] smaller self [sorceresses] of Baal of the earth dance and prophesy of your arrival? Have we in Bashan not dreamed nightly of your [murder]? My soothsayers tell of our [...victory...worship...sacrifices...]. My priestesses speak of [sorcery and perversion] for Baal has spoken [...] of when I Og will [tear] the virgin [child skull] of the corrupt [fecal worm] Moses from his soft dung-filled body and [...] hold it over Bashan as [a blood sign] to Baal of the earth. Your barren women will sing praises to Og. My dreams need no interpretation.

How will I, Og [murder] [...] corrupt one? I murder you [...] [as[a] dog...torn by a bull at the slaughter]. Should I lift [ an entire [...] mountain [ of earth] over my head [...]]? Is not Baal [the god] of this fertile [earth] that I Og live in? The kingdom [...] supreme Baal has thousands of [...] answers to [...the pathetic] [excreta-smear] [insect-sized] god [...] [Israel]. Come here, that I Og might b[bind you with] bracelets and cords [empowered by] Baal of the earth outside of our temple in the high place.

I, Og will grind your [bones] to their [dung-marrow]. I, Og will pluck your eyes from your face and toss them to the [blood pit]. I will [eat] both of your [arms] to the stump. ### Deuteronomy 3:2-7

2 And the LORD said unto me, Fear him not: for I will deliver him, and all his people, and his land, into thy hand; and thou shalt do unto him as thou didst unto Sihon king of the Amorites, which dwelt at Heshbon.

3 So the LORD our God delivered into our hands Og also, the king of Bashan, and all his people: and we smote him until none was left to him remaining.

4 And we took all his cities at that time, there was not a city which we took not from them, threescore cities, all the region of Argob, the kingdom of Og in Bashan.

5 All these cities were fenced with high walls, gates, and bars; beside unwalled towns a great many.

6 And we utterly destroyed them, as we did unto Sihon king of Heshbon, utterly destroying the men, women, and children, of every city.

7 But all the cattle, and the spoil of the cities, we took for a prey to ourselves.

Romans 9:15-17

15 For he saith to Moses, I will have mercy on whom I will have mercy, and I will have compassion on whom I will have compassion.

16 So then it is not of him that willeth, nor of him that runneth, but of God that sheweth mercy.

17 For the scripture saith unto Pharaoh, Even for this same purpose have I raised thee up, that I might shew my power in thee, and that my name might be declared throughout all the earth.

Abraham And Og Interacted! Books That Were Meant For GOCC, Were Given To Me To Share With You!

When in the night of the new moon of Tishri (the New-year), Abraham was watching the stars to forecast the year's fertility, the revelation came to him that, in view of God's omnipotent will, all astrological predictions were valueless, and, after fervent prayer, he received word from God to leave the Chaldeans and set out on his mission to bless the nations by teaching them the higher truths. An angel of God taught him Hebrew, the language of revelation, by which, he was enabled to decipher all the secrets of the ancient books (see Gen. R. xlii). Leaving his brother Nahor with his father, Abraham went to the Holy Land and observed there all the festivals and new moons (afterward prescribed to the Israelites, but already written on the heavenly tablets revealed to Enoch), besides many other customs observed by the priesthood of the second century B.C.

According to one opinion, Abraham attained the true knowledge of God when he was three years old; according to others, at ten; and again a more sober opinion claims that he was forty-eight year old....other kings, Abraham cast dust upon them, and it turned into swords and lances, and the stubble turned into bows and arrows (according to Isa. xli. 2). Og, the giant king of Bashan, was the one "that escaped" (ha-palif), and brought him the news of the capture of Lot. Og was of the remnant of the giants that lived before the Flood (Deut. iii. 11). He cast a lustful eye upon Sarah, and hoped to see Abraham killed in the war in order that he might take her to wife.

Columbus: Deliverer of Jerusalem

“And the glory of the LORD will be revealed, and all mankind together will see it... You who bring good tidings to Zion. go up on a high mountain. You who bring good tidings to Jerusalem, lift up your voice with a shout, lift it up, do not be afraid; say to the towns of Judah, “Here is your God!” pg 6

The great city of Constantinople, gateway to the Orient, fell into the hands of the Ottoman Turks in 1453. This conquest provoked the search for new route to Asia and awakened longings for a new crusade against the Moslems, in order to liberate the Holy City of Jerusalem from the infidels:

“For you took my silver and my gold and carried off my finest treasures to your temples. You sold the people of Judah and Jerusalem..., that you might send them far from their homeland.” (Joel 3:5,6) Christopher Columbus

Joel 3:5,6

5 Because ye have taken my silver and my gold, and have carried into your temples my goodly pleasant things:

6 The children also of Judah and the children of Jerusalem have ye sold unto the Grecians, that ye might remove them far from their border.

Are you repaying me for something I have done? If you are paying me back, I will swiftly and speedily return on your own heads what you have done. For you took my silver and my gold and carried off my finest treasures to your temples. You sold the people of Judah and Jerusalem to the Greeks, that you might send them far from their “Note 10: Written pacts signed by magicians and various demons actually exist. For example, one of the contracts found in the possession of Urban Grander, the priest of Loudoun, was written in blood, presumably his own, and reads in French:

The Smithsonian Statement

The Smithsonian Institution’s nine-point two-page letter (summer 1982), entitled “Statement Regarding the Book of Mormon,” explains why the Institution feels it cannot support the concept of pre-Columbian voyages to the New World. (The handout is mailed to those who request the Institution’s opinion on the validity of the Book of Mormon.)

Point

In the Book of Mormon there are many observations regarding the types of animals, crops, and races of people that lived in early America. Evidence of many of these have been substantiated: some only recently.

References: Animals: 1 Nephi 18:25; Grains: Mosiah 9:9; Ancestry: Omni 14, 15, and 3 Nephi, Chapter 5.

(1 Nephi 18:25 And it came to pass that we did find upon the land of promise, as we journeyed in the wilderness, that there were beasts in the forests of every kind, both the cow and the ox, and the ass and the horse, and the goat and the wild goat, and all manner of wild animals, which were for the use of men. And we did find all manner of ore, both of gold, and of silver, and of copper.

Mosiah 9:9 And we began to till the ground, yea, even with all manner of seeds, with seeds of corn, and of wheat, and of barley, and with neas, and with sheum, and with seeds of all manner of fruits; and we did begin to multiply and prosper in the land.

Omni 14 And they discovered a people, who were called the people of Zarahemla. Now, there was great rejoicing among the people of Zarahemla; and also Zarahemla did rejoice exceedingly, because the Lord had sent the people of Mosiah with the plates of brass which contained the record of the Jews.

15 Behold, it came to pass that Mosiah discovered that the people of Zarahemla came out from Jerusalem at the time that Zedekiah, king of Judah, was carried away captive into Babylon).

Counterpoints

The following is a summary of the Smithsonian Institution's nine-point letter entitled "Statement Regarding the Book of Mormon":

1. The Smithsonian Institution has never used the Book of Mormon as a scientific guide and sees no direct connection between the archaeology of the New World and the subject matter of the book.
2. The physical type of the American Indian is basically Mongoloid, most closely related to the people of eastern, central, and northeastern Asia. Archaeological evidence indicates that ancestors of the present Indians came to the New World via the Bering Strait land bridge.
3. The first people to reach this continent from the East were the Norsemen who briefly visited the northeastern part of North America around A.D. 1000 and who then settled in Greenland.
4. None of the principal Old World domesticated food plants or animals (except the dog) occurred in the New World in pre-Columbian times. American Indians had no wheat, barley, oats, millet, rice, cattle, pigs, chickens, horses, donkeys, camels before 1492. (Camels and horses were in the Americas, along with the bison, mammoth, and mastodon, but all these animals became extinct around 10,000 B.C.)
5. Iron, steel, glass, and silk were not used in the New World before 1492 (except for occasional use of unsmelted meteoric iron).
6. Any contacts (between peoples) from the Old World to the Americas would have been accidental. It is by no means certain that even such contacts occurred. There were no contacts with the ancient Egyptians, Hebrews, or other peoples of Western Asia and the Near East.
7. No reputable Egyptologist or other specialist on Old World archaeology has discovered or confirmed any relationship between archaeological remains in Mexico and archeological remains in Egypt.

8. No inscriptions using Old World forms of writing have been shown to have occurred in any part of the Americas before 1492 except for a few Norse rune stones which have been found in Greenland.

9. There are copies of the Book of Mormon in the library of the National Museum of Natural History, Smithsonian Institution.

Unfortunately, however, the Smithsonian has become the final word of authority for the answer to many people's questions regarding the Book of Mormon's authenticity. pp 22-23

Psalm 83:2-5

2 For, lo, thine enemies make a tumult: and they that hate thee have lifted up the head.

3 They have taken crafty counsel against thy people, and consulted against thy hidden ones.

4 They have said, Come, and let us cut them off from being a nation; that the name of Israel may be no more in remembrance.

5 For they have consulted together with one consent: they are confederate against thee:

1 Peter 2:9-10

9 But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should shew forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvellous light;

10 Which in time past were not a people, but are now the people of God: which had not obtained mercy, but now have obtained mercy.

Dr. Erland Nordenskiöld of Goteborg Museum says there are culture elements among the Indians that could not likely have reached America via Bering Strait because of their inapplicability to an Arctic climate. Furthermore they are unknown in northern Asia and in North America above the border of Mexico. He says:

Among these culture elements which we find in South America are metallurgy (comprising, among other things, such important inventions as ore-smelting, metal-casting in the ordinary way, casting (à cire perdue?), embossing, bronze, gilding, highly -finished weavings including ikat and batik, artistic architecture in stone and adobe, pyramids, beam-scale, steel-yard, teeth filing, mirror (concave and convex), litter, socketed axe-head, parasols as insignia of rank, metal pincer, mosaic work of stones, wooden articles inlaid with lacquer, etc.

He continues:

Quite astonishing is the similarity which is found--as pointed out by Flinders Petrie and other writers--between the T-shaped axes of stone, copper, and bronze of South America, and the T-shaped axes of stone, copper, bronze, and iron of Egypt. As the T-shaped ax is not known from North America or from Northern Asia, the conception of making such tools cannot have reached America from that quarter. Origin of Ancient American Civilization
pg 17

At that distant time, Turner argues, a great part of North America was inhabited by populous nations, highly civilized. "These numerous works could not have been supplied provision without the aid of agriculture, nor could they have been constructed without the use of iron or copper."

The book of Ether (15:26) declares that the Jaredite warriors were men of great stature. When Limhi's scouts found the remains of the Jaredites they were impressed with the "large breastplates" which they found among the ruins. So impressed were they with these large metal protectors, that they carried some of them home with them. These were made of brass and copper "and were perfectly sound." Surely, these were the first people to work the copper mines near Lake Superior. The Geography of the Book of Mormon

2 Esdras 16:62-66, 73

62 Yea and the Spirit of Almighty God, which made all things, and searcheth out all hidden things in the secrets of the earth, 63 Surely he knoweth your inventions, and what ye think in your hearts, even them that sin, and would hide their sin. 64 Therefore hath the Lord exactly searched out all your works, and he will put you all to shame. 65 And when your sins are brought forth, ye shall be ashamed before men, and your own sins shall be your accusers in that day. 66 What will ye do? or how will ye hide your sins before God and his angels?

73 Then shall they be known, who are my chosen; and they shall be tried as the gold in the fire.

Jeremiah 50:33

33 Thus saith the LORD of hosts; The children of Israel and the children of Judah were oppressed together: and all that took them captives held them fast; they refused to let them go.

Considerable changes had taken place in the island of Hispaniola, during the absence of the admiral. The mines had fallen into neglect, the cultivation of the sugar-cane having been found a more certain source of wealth. It became a by-word in Spain that the magnificent palaces created by Charles V. at Madrid and Toledo were built of the sugar of Hispaniola. Slaves had been imported in great numbers from Africa, being found more serviceable in the culture of the cane than the feeble Indians. The treatment of the poor negroes was cruel in the extreme; and they seem to have had no advocates even among the humane. The slavery of the Indians had been founded on the right of the strong; but it was thought that the negroes, from their colour, were born to slavery, and that from being bought and sold in their own country, it was their natural condition. Though a patient and enduring race, the barbarities inflicted on them at length roused them to revenge, and on the 27th December, 1522, there was the first African revolt in Hispaniola.

Prophecy Fulfilled Concerning Preaching Another Jesus Here In Amaru!! When White Really Meant Black

2 Corinthians 11:4

4 For if he that cometh preacheth another Jesus, whom we have not preached, or if ye receive another spirit, which ye have not received, or another gospel, which ye have not accepted, ye might well bear with him.

The noble Catholic padre, Bernardino de Sahagun(1499-1590), who lived in Mexico from 1529 and 1590, also tells of a transoceanic voyage of the early settlers of Middle America. Speaking of some of the descendants of the original colonizers, he states:

All of them, men and women, are white and of good and well-proportioned faces and good features...These lived in good breeding, because the men wore food clothes and mantles; they wear shoes, jewels and beads around the neck. They look at themselves in mirrors and their women put on painted and elegant skirts and blouses. They are polished and expert in everything.

It is extremely singular that several Mexican paintings should represent Quetzalcoatl with his side pierced with a spear and water flowing from the wound...The paintings which represent Quetzalcoatl pierced with a spear and water issuing from the wound, occur at the sixty-first page of the Borgian manuscript [Kingsborough's Volume 2] and at the ninth page of the Mexican painting preserved in the library of the Institute of Bologna. (The crucified Lord of ancient Mexico, as shown in Aztec Codes- before Columbus (from Kingsborough))

Dr. Kroeber then called attention to the Indians' traditions of a white and bearded race of culture institutors and concluded that those people may have been responsible for the fact that the "other Culture" appeared originally in "full bloom" in the various countries of the New World preceding the rise of the numerous inferior Indian cultures.

Thor Heyerdahl of Kon-Tiki fame agrees with Dr. Kroeber in giving credit to a white race for establishing the high American culture anciently which served as the "Mother Culture" of all later Indian achievements. To Quote Thor Heyerdahl:

The specified traditions of light-skinned and bearded founders of culture were most prominent and complete among the Aztec, Maya, Chiocha, and Inca nations, that is, among the natives with the highest cultural standing in the New World, and we have also ample evidence to verify that these historic nations really did own their cultural standing to other people with even more impressive high-cultures who had been active in just these same localities in earlier times. These original culture-bearers are known to us only through their archaeological remains, chiefly consisting of deserted ecclesiastical sites. It is noteworthy that all the known culture peoples concerned disclaim the honour of having constructed these monuments, or of having originated their own cultural standards, and give all the credit to foreign intruders remembered as having lighter skin than themselves, long beards, marked ecclesiastic interest and benevolent characters. Christ In Ancient America

The Coptic Apocalypse of Peter

And they praise the men of the propagation of falsehood, who will succeed you. And they will hold fast to the name of a dead man, while thinking that they will become pure. But they will become greatly defiled. And they will fall into an explicit error and into the hand of an evil, cunning man with a multifarious doctrine. And they will be ruled heretically. For some of them will blaspheme the truth and proclaim evil teaching. And they will say evil things to each other.

“Therefore everything that does not abide will dissolve into that which does not exist. For deaf and blind ones join only with their own kind. But some will depart from evil words and deceptive mysteries. Others do not understand mysteries, although they speak of these things which they do not understand. ### Numbers 13:17-33

17 And Moses sent them to spy out the land of Canaan, and said unto them, Get you up this way southward, and go up into the mountain:

18 And see the land, what it is, and the people that dwelleth therein, whether they be strong or weak, few or many;

19 And what the land is that they dwell in, whether it be good or bad; and what cities they be that they dwell in, whether in tents, or in strong holds;

20 And what the land is, whether it be fat or lean, whether there be wood therein, or not. And be ye of good courage, and bring of the fruit of the land. Now the time was the time of the first ripe grapes.

21 So they went up, and searched the land from the wilderness of Zin unto Rehob, as men come to Hamath.

22 And they ascended by the south, and came unto Hebron; where Ahiman, Sheshai, and Talmi, the children of Anak, were. (Now Hebron was built seven years before Zoan in Egypt.)

23 And they came unto the brook of Eshcol, and cut down from thence a branch with one cluster of grapes, and they bare it between two upon a staff; and they brought of the pomegranates, and of the figs.

24 The place was called the brook Eshcol, because of the cluster of grapes which the children of Israel cut down from thence.

25 And they returned from searching of the land after forty days.

26 And they went and came to Moses, and to Aaron, and to all the congregation of the children of Israel, unto the wilderness of Paran, to Kadesh; and brought back word unto them, and unto all the congregation, and showed them the fruit of the land.

27 And they told him, and said, We came unto the land whither thou sentest us, and surely it floweth with milk and honey; and this is the fruit of it.

28 Nevertheless the people be strong that dwell in the land, and the cities are walled, and very great: and moreover we saw the children of Anak there.

29 The Amalekites dwell in the land of the south: and the Hittites, and the Jebusites, and the Amorites, dwell in the mountains: and the Canaanites dwell by the sea, and by the coast of Jordan.

30 And Caleb stilled the people before Moses, and said, Let us go up at once, and possess it; for we are well able to overcome it.

31 But the men that went up with him said, We be not able to go up against the people; for they are stronger than we.

32 And they brought up an evil report of the land which they had searched unto the children of Israel, saying, The land, through which we have gone to search it, is a land that eateth up the inhabitants thereof; and all the people that we saw in it are men of a great stature.

33 And there we saw the giants, the sons of Anak, which come of the giants: and we were in our own sight as grasshoppers, and so we were in their sight.

Jasher 34:20-33

20 And she hastened and sent one of her maidens, that her father had sent to take care of her in the house of Shechem, to Jacob her father and to her brethren, saying:

21 Thus did Chiddekem and his brothers advise concerning you, and thus did Hamor and Shechem and the people of the city answer them.

22 And when Jacob heard these words he was filled with wrath, and he was indignant at them, and his anger was kindled against them.

he Lord liveth, the God of the whole earth, by this time tomorrow, there shall not be a remnant left in the whole city.

24 And twenty young men had concealed themselves who were not circumcised, and these young men fought against Simeon and Levi, and Simeon and Levi killed eighteen of them, and two fled from them and escaped to some lime pits that were in the city, and Simeon and Levi sought for them, but could not find them.

25 And Simeon and Levi continued to go about in the city, and they killed all the people of the city at the edge of the sword, and they left none remaining.

26 And there was a great consternation in the midst of the city, and the cry of the people of the city ascended to heaven, and all the women and children cried aloud.

27 And Simeon and Levi slew all the city; they left not a male remaining in the whole city.

28 And they slew Hamor and Shechem his son at the edge of the sword, and they brought away Dinah from the house of Shechem and they went from there.

29 And the sons of Jacob went and returned, and came upon the slain, and spoiled all their property which was in the city and the field.

30 And whilst they were taking the spoil, three hundred men stood up and threw dust at them and struck them with stones, when Simeon turned to them and he slew them all with the edge of the sword, and Simeon turned before Levi, and came into the city.

31 And they took away their sheep and their oxen and their cattle, and also the remainder of the women and little ones, and they led all these away, and they opened a gate and went out and came unto their father Jacob with vigor.

32 And when Jacob saw all that they had done to the city, and saw the spoil that they took from them, Jacob was very angry at them, and Jacob said unto them, What is this that you have done to me? behold I obtained rest amongst the Canaanitish inhabitants of the land, and none of them meddled with me.

33 And now you have done to make me obnoxious to the inhabitants of the land, amongst the Canaanites and the Perizzites, and I am but of a small number, and they will all assemble against me and slay me when they hear of your work with their brethren, and I and my household will be destroyed.

Jasher 73:1-48

1 In the fifty-fifth year of the reign of Pharaoh king of Egypt, that is in the hundred and fifty-seventh year of the Israelites going down into Egypt, reigned Moses in Cush.

2 Moses was twenty-seven years old when he began to reign over Cush, and forty years did he reign.

3 And the Lord granted Moses favor and grace in the eyes of all the children of Cush, and the children of Cush loved him exceedingly, so Moses was favored by the Lord and by men.

4 And in the seventh day of his reign, all the children of Cush assembled and came before Moses and bowed down to him to the ground.

5 And all the children spoke together in the presence of the king, saying, Give us counsel that we may see what is to be done to this city.

6 For it is now nine years that we have been besieging round about the city, and have not seen our children and our wives.

7 So the king answered them, saying, If you will hearken to my voice in all that I shall command you, then will the Lord give the city into our hands and we shall subdue it.

8 For if we fight with them as in the former battle which we had with them before the death of Kikianus, many of us will fall down wounded as before.

9 Now therefore behold here is counsel for you in this matter; if you will hearken to my voice, then will the city be delivered into our hands.

10 So all the forces answered the king, saying, All that our lord shall command that will we do.

11 And Moses said unto them, Pass through and proclaim a voice in the whole camp unto all the people, saying,

12 Thus says the king, Go into the forest and bring with you of the young ones of the stork, each man a young one in his hand.

13 And any person transgressing the word of the king, who shall not bring his young one, he shall die, and the king will take all belonging to him.

14 And when you shall bring them they shall be in your keeping, you shall rear them until they grow up, and you shall teach them to dart upon, as is the way of the young ones of the hawk.

15 So all the children of Cush heard the words of Moses, and they rose up and caused a proclamation to be issued throughout the camp, saying,

16 Unto you, all the children of Cush, the king's order is, that you go all together to the forest, and catch there the young storks each man his young one in his hand, and you shall bring them home.

17 And any person violating the order of the king shall die, and the king will take all that belongs to him.

18 And all the people did so, and they went out to the wood and they climbed the fir trees and caught, each man a young one in his hand, all the young of the storks, and they brought them into the desert and reared them by order of the king, and they taught them to dart upon, similar to the young hawks.

19 And after the young storks were reared, the king ordered them to be hungered for three days, and all the people did so.

20 And on the third day, the king said unto them, strengthen yourselves and become valiant men, and put on each man his armor and gird on his sword upon him, and ride each man his horse and take each his young stork in his hand.

21 And we will rise up and fight against the city at the place where the serpents are; and all the people did as the king had ordered.

22 And they took each man his young one in his hand, and they went away, and when they came to the place of the serpents the king said to them, Send forth each man his young stork upon the serpents.

23 And they sent forth each man his young stork at the king's order, and the young storks ran upon the serpents and they devoured them all and destroyed them out of that place.

24 And when the king and people had seen that all the serpents were destroyed in that place, all the people set up a great shout.

25 And they approached and fought against the city and took it and subdued it, and they entered the city.

26 And there died on that day one thousand and one hundred men of the people of the city, all that inhabited the city, but of the people besieging not one died.

27 So all the children of Cush went each to his home, to his wife and children and to all belonging to him.

28 And Balaam the magician, when he saw that the city was taken, he opened the gate and he and his two sons and eight brothers fled and returned to Egypt to Pharaoh king of Egypt.

29 They are the sorcerers and magicians who are mentioned in the book of the law, standing against Moses when the Lord brought the plagues upon Egypt.

30 So Moses took the city by his wisdom, and the children of Cush placed him on the throne instead of Kikianus king of Cush.

31 And they placed the royal crown upon his head, and they gave him for a wife Adoniah the Cushite queen, wife of Kikianus.

32 And Moses feared the Lord God of his fathers, so that he came not to her, nor did he turn his eyes to her.

33 For Moses remembered how Abraham had made his servant Eliezer swear, saying unto him, Thou shalt not take a woman from the daughters of Canaan for my son Isaac.

34 Also what Isaac did when Jacob had fled from his brother, when he commanded him, saying, Thou shalt not take a wife from the daughters of Canaan, nor make alliance with any of the children of Ham.

35 For the Lord our God gave Ham the son of Noah, and his children and all his seed, as slaves to the children of Shem and to the children of Japheth, and unto their seed after them for slaves, forever.

36 Therefore Moses turned not his heart nor his eyes to the wife of Kikianus all the days that he reigned over Cush.

37 And Moses feared the Lord his God all his life, and Moses walked before the Lord in truth, with all his heart and soul, he turned not from the right way all the days of his life; he declined not from the way either to the right or to the left, in which Abraham, Isaac and Jacob had walked.

38 And Moses strengthened himself in the kingdom of the children of Cush, and he guided the children of Cush with his usual wisdom, and Moses prospered in his kingdom.

39 And at that time Aram and the children of the east heard that Kikianus king of Cush had died, so Aram and the children of the east rebelled against Cush in those days.

40 And Moses gathered all the children of Cush, a people very mighty, about thirty thousand men, and he went forth to fight with Aram and the children of the east.

41 And they went at first to the children of the east, and when the children of the east heard their report, they went to meet them, and engaged in battle with them.

42 And the war was severe against the children of the east, so the Lord gave all the children of the east into the hand of Moses, and about three hundred men fell down slain.

43 And all the children of the east turned back and retreated, so Moses and the children of Cush followed them and subdued them, and put a tax upon them, as was their custom.

44 So Moses and all the people with him passed from there to the land of Aram for battle.

45 And the people of Aram also went to meet them, and they fought against them, and the Lord delivered them into the hand of Moses, and many of the men of Aram fell down wounded.

46 And Aram also were subdued by Moses and the people of Cush, and also gave their usual tax.

47 And Moses brought Aram and the children of the east under subjection to the children of Cush, and Moses and all the people who were with him, turned to the land of Cush.

48 And Moses strengthened himself in the kingdom of the children of Cush, and the Lord was with him, and all the children of Cush were afraid of him.

Josiah priest was convinced that not only Asiatic people very soon after the flood but also all along the ages the different races colonized different parts of this country. America was peopled before the flood. It was the country of Noah and the place where the ark was erected. pg15

Turner allows his imaginations to follow the builders of these fortifications “through Ohio into the great valley of the Mississippi, thence to the Gulf of Mexico, through Texas into New Mexico and South America.”

The historian Squire has written extensively on this subject, practically agreeing with Turner in his major conclusions. In 1851 he published a book on the subject, after years of research. He estimated that about 259 drumlin hills in western New York had been strongly fortified by an ancient people. "In nearly all cases these forts are placed in close proximity to some unfailing supply of water, near copious springs or running streams. Gateways, opening toward these, are always to be observed, and in some cases guarded passageways are also visible."

A characteristic feature of the fortified towns is the cache or "well" in which their food supply was stored. These holes are about eight feet deep and capable of holding a large quantity of food. They were very numerous and were always located in the driest portion of the enclosure.

He then describes many of these fortified sites, all of which had a high embankment of earth with an exterior ditch. His opinion of the fate that overtook these early inhabitants is "that the ancient village was destroyed by enemies, and that these are the bones of its occupants who fell in defense of the kindred and were burned in the fires which consumed their lodges. We saw bushels of stones axes, flints arrowheads, and other remnants of savage art."

CUMORAHLAND AND THE SPACE

Bone of Fallen Warriors

He emphasizes the fact that in every fortified village the skeletons of the defenders are buried promiscuously---"adults of both sexes, children, and infants. Many skulls were fractured, as if by a blow."

Concerning every village he helped explore, he writes this comment, "human bones are promiscuously heaped together." "This country, " he concludes, "possessed a very heavy original population; probably greater than any equal extent of territory north of the Floridas."

Squire concludes that:

If the tide of migration flowed from the south, it received its final check upon this line. On the other hypothesis, southwards, constantly developing itself in its progress, until it attained its height in Mexico, we may suppose from this direction came the hostile savage hordes, before whose incessant attacks the less warlike mound-builders gradually receded, or beneath whose exterminating cruelty they entirely disappeared--leaving these monuments alone to attest their existence, and the extraordinary skill with which they defended their altars and their homes. Upon either assumption it is clear that the contest was a protracted one, and that race of the mounds were...

Every scientist who has studied the fortifications of Cumorahland has said much about the burial of the dead which indicated that they were killed in battle. From another source we find this typical comment:

Children of different ages and the full grown seemed to have been piled together promiscuously. One of the skulls was found pierced by an arrow, which was still sticking in it, driven about half way through before its force was spent. The arrow point was about six inches long. The subjects of the mound were doubtless killed in battle and hastily buried. Some of the mounds are full of bones that are perforated, as though the living subjects were slain in battle, and that the skeletons were heaped together in promiscuous confusion, as if buried after a conflict.

Almost every historian or scientist emphasizes that the ‘bones were of both sexes, and of all ages. Many of the skulls bore marks of violence, leading to the belief that they were broken before burial.

The renowned scientist, Josiah Priest, wrote extensively on this subject after a careful research. He estimated the number of fortified hills in western New York at two hundred fifty. He and Dr. Cutler, and the historian Atwater spent months studying tree rings and the time required for a forest to grow above the ruins of a vanquished race. It was their opinion that this “country was deserted about five hundred years after the commencement of the Christian era.”

Priest describes many of the forts that were to be discerned years ago, their ancient forms faintly visible to the trained eye of the scientist. He gives the usual information and his conclusions agree with those expressed in these pages. He mentions eight tall mounds within the enclosure of one large fort, each located near a gateway. These, he assumed were to be crowned with warriors or with spectators to watch the warriors as they left the fort or returned after a skirmish. These vast and numerous forts in western New York cause his imagination “to be irresistibly directed to a contemplation of ancient Babylon, the first city of magnitude to be erected immediately after the flood.

Another historian calling himself an Americanist wrote a book which he called “The Ruins Revisited.” On page 206 of this volume we read of a large fort in western New York capable of enclosing 60,000 soldiers and their families. He sees among the ruins of these fortified hills “lookouts that served as signal towers when apprehensive of danger from their enemies.” Geography of the Book of Mormon pg 72-76

Israel will be gathered when the Book of Mormon comes forth—The Gentiles will be established as a free people in America—They will be saved if they believe and obey; otherwise, they will be cut off and destroyed—Israel will build the New Jerusalem, and the lost tribes will return. About A.D. 34.

7 And when these things come to pass that thy seed shall begin to know these things—it shall be a sign unto them, that they may know that the work of the Father hath already commenced unto the fulfilling of the covenant which he hath made unto the people who are of the house of Israel.

6 For thus it behooveth the Father that it should come forth from the Gentiles, that he may show forth his power unto the Gentiles, for this cause that the Gentiles, if they will not harden their hearts, that they may repent and come unto me and be baptized in my name and know of the true points of my doctrine, that they may be numbered among my people, O house of Israel;

8 And when that day shall come, it shall come to pass that kings shall shut their mouths; for that which had not been told them shall they see; and that which they had not heard shall they consider.

9 For in that day, for my sake shall the Father work a work, which shall be a great and a marvelous work among them; and there shall be among them those who will not believe it, although a man shall declare it unto them.

10 But behold, the life of my servant shall be in my hand; therefore they shall not hurt him, although he shall be marred because of them. Yet I will heal him, for I will show unto them that my wisdom is greater than the cunning of the devil.

11 Therefore it shall come to pass that whosoever will not believe in my words, who am Jesus Christ, which the Father shall cause him to bring forth unto the Gentiles, and shall give unto him power that he shall bring them forth unto the Gentiles, (it shall be done even as Moses said) they shall be cut off from among my people who are of the covenant.

12 And my people who are a remnant of Jacob shall be among the Gentiles, yea, in the midst of them as a lion among the beasts of the forest, as a young lion among the flocks of sheep, who, if he go through both treadeth down and teareth in pieces, and none can deliver.

The Tale Of Two Gods!! The One They Want To Believe And The One That Is

THE ANCIENT LEGACY

In the opinion of French historian Raymond Cartier, “In many fields of knowledge the Mayas outclassed the Greeks and Romans. They were expert astronomers and mathematicians, and thus brought to perfection the science of chronology. They built domed observatories with a more exact orientation than those of 17th-century Paris, e.g. the Caracol erected on three terraces in Chichén Itzá.

They had a precise calendar based on a ‘sacred year’ of 260 days, a solar year of 365 days, and a Venusian year of 584 days. The exact length of the solar year has been fixed, after long calculation, at 365.2422 days; the Mayas estimated it at 365.2420 days, i.e. correct to three places of decimals.”

The Mayas showed astonishing mathematical skill. While the Romans were still using a cumbersome method of counting, the Mayas invented a system of numbering that has all the features of modern arithmetic. Yet they used only three symbols: a bar for the number five, dots for each unit up to four, and a stylized shell for zero. Above all, the Mayas developed a form of picture-writing, based on a similar system to that used in Egyptian hieroglyphs. Because Diego de Landa, a Spanish monk who became Bishop of Yucatán, burned all the Mayan literature he could lay his hands on, only three Mayan books remain for study, and Mayan writing is still largely undeciphered.

While acknowledging the remarkable achievements of the early American civilizations and their striking similarities to Old World cultures, it is only fair that we also consider the features they did not share with Old World civilizations. They had no plow, very few metal tools, no Old World diseases, no Old World domestic animals, and no wheels--except on toys.

The earliest version of the Old Testament is Septuagint which is a Greek translation produced in Egypt from 3rd to 1st century BC. The first translation into a language of Western European is the Latin version the Vulgate of Saint Jerome in 405 AD. Still used by the Roman Catholic church the first English version is that of John Wyclife 1382. Tindale was the first to print an English Testament his own translation in 1525, which work was completed by Myles Cloverdale with the help of the German version produced the whole printed Bible and one volume in 1535. The great Bible was issued in the name of Henry VIII, with the aid of Thomas Cromwell and Thomas Cranmer 1539, of which the Geneva Bible 1558 was a revision, annotated by the Calvinist the Roman Catholics (?), produced Doouay version in 1610. The greatest of all is the authorized version of King James version 1611. A revision made by a committee of eminent scholars of the church based Tindale's English Bible shows a purity of style and beauty of English that ranked it in English literature with Shakespeare's work. The English revised version and the 1880-1890 were a revision of King James from the original languages.

Abraham Lincoln Was Aware That America Was The Land Of Giants!! Psalms 83 And The Tumult In Action!!

"The eyes of that extinct species of giant, whose bones fill the mounds of America, have gazed on Niagara as our eyes do now."

Abraham Lincoln 1848

Giant Skeletons Have Been Found Buried in Mounds Across America, Gaia Staff, November 11, 2019

"Around the turn of the 19th century, there were hundreds of reports from reputable sources of giant skeletons unearthed from ancient burial mounds across America."

"Human giants are not entirely a product of legend in our history. André the Giant is a well-known instance of a man with superhuman proportions and strength, reaching 7 feet 4 inches tall. But André's size was the result of gigantism and acromegaly, disorders caused by an overactive pituitary gland, which releases too much growth hormone. And with the average human height at 5 feet 6 inches for men and 5 feet 2 inches for women, it's rare to find someone of André's height, let alone his stature.

With the extreme rarity of gigantism, affecting roughly three in a million, it's surprising how often giants are spoken of in biblical texts and American folklore. David and Goliath, Jack and the Beanstalk, and Paul Bunyon are familiar examples of tales involving giants. But while these are thought to be myths or legends, is there any possibility that a race of giants once existed or were there human-like ancestors significantly larger than us?

Unusual Mounds

Across the U.S., there are burial mounds, or at least their remnants, some as extensive in size as the Great Pyramid of Giza. The Cahokia and Monk's mounds in Illinois and Missouri are two thought to have been built by pre-Columbian civilizations. The Cahokia mound is 100 feet tall with a 14-acre base, almost an entire acre larger than the pyramid at Giza. Monk's Mound is just as tall with a 1,000-foot-wide base. But what makes these and other mounds of their kind even more intriguing is what has been found buried inside of them.

Jim Vieira has made it his mission to explore the mystery behind these mounds and others where there is documentation of unearthed skeletons, often of gigantic proportions. Vieira, a stonemason by trade, found himself intrigued after finding a plethora of mysterious stone mounds throughout New England.

He found that the construction, and particularly the stonework, of these mounds, was impressive, considering the level of technology at the time. He also noticed that the orientation of the mounds was such that the entrances faced a direction that was in alignment with the sun during the Equinoxes. The mounds were built with massive stones and were present long before colonists from Europe crossed over.

Vieira uncovered old reports in New England of giant skeletons unearthed from these mounds, often with two rows of teeth and jaws that could fit over the head of a normal-sized human. The skeletons ranged in length from 7 to 10 feet tall. While this may sound ridiculous at first glance, it was not an isolated incident and is supported by reports from reputable news sources of the time.

Massive Ancestors

Discoveries of the giant skeletons were found all over the Northeast, from Martha's Vineyard and Deerfield Valley Massachusetts, to Vermont and upstate New York. Other reports of the discovery of buried giants were also found in the South, Midwest and West coast.

In the Ohio River Valley, a report from a local paper, that was backed up by Scientific American, found bodies of several giants buried under a ten foot tall mound. One female skeleton was found holding a three-and-a-half-foot long child. Another of the giant skeletons was buried in a clay coffin and an engraved stone tablet was also recovered. This particular mound was 64 feet long by 35 feet wide.

The Chichasawba mound in Arkansas is another instance of the uncovering of a giant skeleton under similar circumstances. The 12-square-mile mound had its name taken from the chief of the Shawnee tribe who was essentially known to be a giant with incredible strength. Chief Chicasawba lived in that area of Arkansas and when the mound was uncovered the skeleton of a massive human was found. Subsequently other skeletons up to ten feet tall were unearthed in the same area, all with similar burial artifacts found with them. Some reports claimed the length of the skeletons legs to be five feet alone.

A Controlled Narrative

While stories of this nature sound fantastical, there are numerous reports of skeletons of the same size appearing in The New York Times and other reputable sources. The majority of these reports occur during the mid to late 19th century, which Vieira sees as a being the turning point in a censored narrative that has now dominated our history textbooks. He says he thinks that awareness of both the mounds and giants were common knowledge during this primarily agrarian time. There is even supposed reference to it from Abraham Lincoln. In a written account of a speech that he was preparing to give at Niagara Falls, he wrote,

“The eyes of that species of extinct giants, whose bones fill the mounds of America, have gazed on Niagara, as ours do now.”

Vieira believes that a prejudiced narrative was created to discredit Native Americans or portray them as savages, because if they were seen as having built the mounds it would show them as mathematically and technically advanced. Vieira says he thinks that the removal of any evidence of the giants might have occurred because they wouldn't fit into the controlled narrative of manifest destiny. Subsequently, many of the mounds were allowed to be destroyed by settlers and farmers as America was colonized, with no regard to the reverence that the natives held for them. And whether the skeletons belonged to a race of giant natives themselves or another race that predated them is unknown, but it is thought that the natives venerated them.

Another conspiracy surrounding the disappearance of evidence regarding the giants points to the Smithsonian. Within the ethnology reports of the museum, there are 17 cases of the Smithsonian uncovering giant skeletons over seven feet tall. The probability of a human growing seven feet tall is .000007 percent, meaning they would have had to excavate roughly 2.5 million bodies to have found that many skeletons of that size.

There are also supposed reports of the Smithsonian purchasing giant skeletons excavated by citizens, which then disappeared, never to be heard from again. The Smithsonian even had a division for exploring mounds, of which there is a written record of them uncovering giant skeletons whose bones crumbled to dust when exposed to air. Was this a coverup by the famed museum, or did they simply dispose of a debunked myth?

The Spirit (71, 35-73, 18)

For the Father, the exalted one, they know [72] by his Will, which [is] the Spirit that breathes through the members of the All and gives them a thought to search for the unknown, just as somebody is moved by a fragrance to seek the source of that fragrance—and the fragrance of the Father surpasses such unworthy things.<sup>19</sup> For its sweetness lets the aeons sense an indescribable pleasure, and gives them the thought that they should be united with the one who desires that they should know him in oneness, and that they should assist one another through the spirit that is sown in them. They find themselves in a great and powerful inbreathing where they are renewed in a speechless manner and are formed, having no occasion to turn away through thoughtlessness from that in which they are placed. For they do not speak but are silent about the glory of the Father, about him who has the power to speak. He manifested [himself], though he cannot be spoken. They have <him> hidden in their thoughts; for that reason the aeons keep silent about the way the Father exists in his form, his nature, and his greatness, [73] but they have become worthy of knowing this through his Spirit. For he is unnamable and inaccessible, but through his Spirit, which is the trace by which he may be sought, he gives himself to them to be thought and spoken. For each of the aeons is a name corresponding to each of the Father's qualities and powers. Since he exists in many names, it is by mingling and through mutual harmony that they are able to speak of him, by means of a richness of speech.<sup>20</sup> Thus, the Father is a single Name because he is One, but nevertheless innumerable in his qualities and names.

Energy Shift: 1/12: Extremely Rare And Intense Event Happened Over 500 Years Ago, Time Of Gentiles!

The last time these two powerful "karmic repercussion" planets aligned in this constellation was over 500 years ago. This Saturn & Pluto phenomenon will trigger a magnificent collective shift. They last connected in Libra in Nov 1982 and now that synodic cycle has completed, a new one begins, with a brand new theme running through it. Old energy is ending. 38 years of karmic energy has closed & deed will now be repaid. Those who have been spreading light in the world will be rewarded with a transformational rebirth, while negativity will now disintegrate. This is the greatest karmic reset & repayment (repayment) we will ever witness. Alex Myles

January 12th, 2020, is bringing a huge and dramatic energy shift and is possibly going to be the most intense and life-altering day of the entire year.

Collectively our entire planet is about to go through a major and rapid transformation, as the old Saturn Pluto synodic cycle closes out and a new one begins.

The next Saturn Pluto alignment will be 2053 -2054, so the energetic theme of this new cycle continues for the next 34 years. However, there is a significant Saturn Pluto alignment in September of this year, so if there is anything still out of alignment that hasn't been cleared before then, we will receive a sharp and chaotic reminder! We will also receive another boost of karmic blessings at this time, to reward for the hard work we will be going through cleansing old energy and for all our good deeds between now and September.

We will all start to notice that both internal and external transformations are occurring on a huge level, as outdated beliefs, past conditioning, old patterns and oppressive and limiting structures disintegrate and fall apart.

Saturn, the Lord of Karma, and Pluto, the planet of transformation, have connected in Capricorn, the constellation that Saturn rules over, and the zodiac sign most well known for discipline, responsibility and "reaping what you sow."

To add to the mix, Mercury also aligns with both Saturn and Pluto in Capricorn, amplifying the energy even further. This means it is possible that heated discussions may be occurring relating to limitations, restrictions, communication issues, misunderstandings, travel plans or relocations. However, we will be far less likely to be drawn into these types of arguments and debates and we will find we have a clearer and calmer voice and that we stand up for what we believe in, so we can forge through with the plans we've long been trying to manifest.

We will notice we have mental clarity and that we are strong willed, bolder, more determined and less likely to be swayed by those who don't hold the same values, ideologies and desires as we do, and we'll be unstoppable in moving forward to create the exact life we've been desperately wanting to live.

This once-in-a-lifetime planetary alignment in Capricorn will force anything out of alignment to fall apart. Whatever lacks integrity, compassion, pure intent or morality will face the consequences, or simply be eliminated, as both Saturn and Pluto's influence brings justice and balance back into our lives.

The Saturn and Pluto conjunction is a major catalyst, signifying the completion of a 38 year era, when the planets last met in Libra, and the start of an exciting new one.

We will begin to witness either break downs or break throughs happening around us, as whatever no longer serves a divine purpose clears out and new systems take form in their place. This can be a painful process at times, so it is recommended to surrender to these purging energies and release whatever or whoever holds us back, lowers our vibration or that we know is not resonating, sustainable or healthy to be around.

If we don't make necessary decisions for ourselves, the Universe will surely sweep in and make them for us, and this is when we are forced to learn lessons the harder way, rather than navigating them in our own time and on our own terms.

Particularly as both Saturn, Pluto and Capricorn can all be quite serious, disciplined, determined and forceful energies, so while they will be fully supporting our highest good, they won't be playing around when it comes to creating necessary change and much needed transformation.

While Saturn and Pluto take us through a sometimes brutal period of letting go of energies that are out of alignment, it is important to remember that the short term pain and discomfort is better than spending long periods repeatedly making the same mistakes, going over the same tired old lessons and being embroiled in turmoil or emotional harm, and overall, in scenarios that aren't genuine or holding loving intentions.

Saturn can be an immensely positive influence in our lives, if we open to it, as it offers clarity and wisdom to situations we have previously failed to make sense of. This wise and disciplined planet offers the opportunity to dive deep and soul search so we can figure out exactly what has been happening in our lives and most importantly why.

Saturn orbits the sun so slowly that it shows us patience, control, tolerance, persistence, surrender, and composure, and helps us understand that when we want to manifest our dreams and best possible life, commitment and perseverance always pay off.

Saturn helps determine whether we're placing our energy in the right areas and if all our loyalty, dedication, and faithfulness to certain people or situations are truly worth it. It also takes us through stages that feel unrelenting and destabilising, as this planet is all about learning from past mistakes, so it asks us to revisit them if we haven't fully learned the lesson. We can only move forward when we understand why we put ourselves in certain situations or become emotionally involved with people who we weren't meant to be with long-term.

Pluto compliments Saturn's energy by forcing us through a deep cleanse to clear out low vibrational energy, whether by our doing, or by the Universe unexpectedly shifting things around so we have no option but to break ties with whatever or whoever is anchoring or pulling us down.

To sail through this period without too much disruption it is imperative that we contemplate why we are clinging to unfulfilling, unhealthy and undesirable dynamics, when we know we have the strength to make a clean break and detox and heal from any dependency or pain.

The transition is not going to be easy, we may try to fight aspects of it, throw tantrums, release tears and raise white flags with reluctance. However, as the days pass we will heal, restructure, regroup and realise how imperative the skin-shedding was for the evolution of our soul's journey and expansion.

This Saturn and Pluto connection heightens karmic attraction, meaning that whatever we have been putting out is going to be returned in magnitude. This will be a majorly positive period for those who have been living compassionately with good intentions, and those who have been trying hard to break free from old and harmful patterns of behavior.

It will be an extremely healing period where the positive vibrations that have been sent out over recent months or years will be returning 100 fold. For those who have dedicated time and energy to good causes, or focusing on social missions and life purposes, these next few months will be the time when blessings and miracles arrive in abundance and rewards flood in.

If there have been situations that we know that we haven't been our best selves in, we can ease karmic payback by choosing to recognise where we have fallen short, and to make amends where applicable. Being authentic and willing to take accountability and resolve issues as they arise, or better, taking action before they become issues, ensures our karmic footprint lessens, and if we have previously taken a wrong path, we can turn energy around by taking responsibility and ensuring our apologies or future behavior rights the wrongs.

If we don't pay attention to the lessons that this cosmic meeting offers it is likely we will remain stuck in old ways, repeating similar mistakes, attracting challenging circumstances and relationships that cause drama or suffering, and wondering why life continuously feels challenging, chaotic and like groundhog day.

It is our choice: we can awaken, grow and shift our lives forward, or stay stuck, constantly feeling triggered and unfulfilled, and emotionally, mentally, spiritually and even physically limited and stagnant.

Whatever we choose, for every energetic action there is a reaction. We can make it positive or negative by remembering that whatever we give out to the universe will be returned in abundance.

This is a regeneration period, where we will be purging and eliminating whatever has fallen out of alignment, including old beliefs & patterns, intrusive and obsessive thinking, blaming and shaming, judgements, grudges, bad habits, limiting fears, resentments, one-sided and half-hearted dynamics, heavy baggage, negative feelings from the past, worries about the future, things we cannot change, the need to control, unrealistic expectations and basically anything or anyone that has already let go of us.

We will discover that if we are not willing to make difficult decisions that are vital for our emotional, mental, spiritual or physical wellbeing, then the Saturn and Pluto energy force will move in with turbulence and make them for us by removing from our lives anything or anyone that is harming or stunting our overall soul growth or health.

We are about to go through a major personal transformation and as the months pass we will be releasing our hold on anything harmful and creating space for much more healthy, fulfilling, balanced and harmonious encounters.

Overall, this is going to be one of the most transformational and life-altering phases we will go through. If we align with the energy and allow it to flow into our lives, we will rapidly notice alterations occurring and amazing possibilities miraculously becoming readily available. It is vital now to pay attention to the energy we are putting out, and to sit back and observe how the Universe blesses & returns it.

Luke 21:21-24

21 Then let them which are in Judaea flee to the mountains; and let them which are in the midst of it depart out; and let not them that are in the countries enter thereinto.

22 For these be the days of vengeance, that all things which are written may be fulfilled.

23 But woe unto them that are with child, and to them that give suck, in those days! for there shall be great distress in the land, and wrath upon this people.

24 And they shall fall by the edge of the sword, and shall be led away captive into all nations: and Jerusalem shall be trodden down of the Gentiles, until the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled.

Psalms 50:16-23

16 But unto the wicked God saith, What hast thou to do to declare my statutes, or that thou shouldest take my covenant in thy mouth?

17 Seeing thou hatest instruction, and casteth my words behind thee.

18 When thou sawest a thief, then thou consentedst with him, and hast been partaker with adulterers.

19 Thou givest thy mouth to evil, and thy tongue frameth deceit.

20 Thou sittest and speakest against thy brother; thou slanderest thine own mother's son.

21 These things hast thou done, and I kept silence; thou thoughtest that I was altogether such an one as thyself: but I will reprove thee, and set them in order before thine eyes.

22 Now consider this, ye that forget God, lest I tear you in pieces, and there be none to deliver.

23 Whoso offereth praise glorifieth me: and to him that ordereth his conversation aright will I shew the salvation of God.

'For I sent you out with mourning and weeping: but ELOHIYM will give you to me again with joy and gladness forever. Like as now the neighbours of Tsiyon have seen your captivity: so shall they see shortly your yeshu`ah from our ELOHIYM which shall come upon you with great glory, and brightness of the Everlasting. 'My children, suffer patiently the wrath that is come upon you from ELOHIYM: for your enemy has persecuted you; but shortly you shall see his destruction, and shall tread upon his neck. 'My delicate ones have gone rough ways, and were taken away as a flock caught of the enemies. 'Be of good comfort, O my children, and cry unto ELOHIYM: for ye shall be remembered of him that brought these things upon you. 'For as it was your mind to go astray from ELOHIYM: so, being returned, seek him ten times more. For he that has brought these plagues upon you shall bring you everlasting joy with your yeshu`ah. 'Take a good heart, O Yerushalayim: for he that gave you that name will comfort you. 'Miserable are they that afflicted you, and rejoiced at your fall. 'Miserable are the cities which your children served: miserable is she that received your sons. 'For as she rejoiced at your ruin, and was glad of your fall: so shall she be grieved for her own desolation. 'For I will take away the rejoicing of her great multitude, and her pride shall be turned into mourning.

BARUK RI'SHON (1 BARUK) 4:23-34 תא CEPHER

So that, if ever those prosperous cities say: Why has EL ELOHIYM brought upon us this retribution?' Say unto them, you and those like you who shall have seen this evil: This is the evil and retribution which is coming upon you and upon your people in its destined time that the nations may be thoroughly smitten. And then they shall be in anguish. And if they say at that time: For how long? You will say to them: Ye who have drunk the strained wine, drink ye also of its dregs, the judgment of the Lofty One, who has no respect of persons. On this account he had aforetime no mercy on his own sons, but afflicted them as his enemies, because they sinned. Then therefore were they chastened that they might be sanctified. But now, ye peoples and nations, ye are guilty because ye have always trodden down the earth, and used the creation unrighteously. For I have always benefited you. And ye have always been ungrateful for the beneficence. BARUK SHENIY (2 BARUK) 13:4-12 תא CEPHER

The Book Of Mormon Has Prophecy That's Being Fulfilled Today, That Connects Perfectly To The Bible!

The great city of Constantinople, gateway to the Orient, fell into the hands of the Ottoman Turks in 1453. This conquest provoked the search for new routes so Asia and awakened longings for a new crusade against the Moslems, in order to liberate the Holy City of Jerusalem from the infidels:

“O God, the nations have invaded your inheritance; they have defiled your holy temple, they have reduced Jerusalem to rubble.” (Psalm 79:1) (Fol. 9 of Book of Prophecies)

Psalm 87 [Psalm 79:1]

“O God, the nations have invaded your inheritance; they have defiled your holy temple, they have reduced Jerusalem to rubble.”

Psalm 75 [Psalm 76:1,2]

In Judah God is known; his name is great in Israel. His tent is in Salem, his dwelling place in Zion.

Psalm 86 [Psalm 87:1-3]

His foundation is in the holy mountains. The LORD loveth the gates of Zion more than all the dwellings of Jacob. Glorious things are spoken of thee, O city of God.

Psalm 81 [Psalm 82]

Arise, O God, judge the earth: for thou shalt inherit all nations.

“For you took my silver and my gold and my gold and carried off my finest treasures to your temples. You sold the people of Judah and Jerusalem..., that you might send them far from their homeland.” (Joel 3:5, 6)

Joel 3:5-6

5 Because ye have taken my silver and my gold, and have carried into your temples my goodly pleasant things:

6 The children also of Judah and the children of Jerusalem have ye sold unto the Grecians, that ye might remove them far from their border.

2 Nephi 29:5-14

5 O ye Gentiles, have ye remembered the Jews, mine ancient covenant people? Nay; but ye have cursed them, and have hated them, and have not sought to recover them. But behold, I will return all these things upon your own heads; for I the Lord have not forgotten my people.

6 Thou fool, that shall say: A Bible, we have got a Bible, and we need no more Bible. Have ye obtained a Bible save it were by the Jews?

7 Know ye not that there are more nations than one? Know ye not that I, the Lord your God, have created all men, and that I remember those who are upon the isles of the sea; and that I rule in the heavens above and in the earth beneath; and I bring forth my word unto the children of men, yea, even upon all the nations of the earth?

8 Wherefore murmur ye, because that ye shall receive more of my word? Know ye not that the testimony of two nations is a witness unto you that I am God, that I remember one nation like unto another? Wherefore, I speak the same words unto one nation like unto another. And when the two nations shall run together the testimony of the two nations shall run together also.

9 And I do this that I may prove unto many that I am the same yesterday, today, and forever; and that I speak forth my words according to mine own pleasure. And because that I have spoken one word ye need not suppose that I cannot speak another; for my work is not yet finished; neither shall it be until the end of man, neither from that time henceforth and forever.

10 Wherefore, because that ye have a Bible ye need not suppose that it contains all my words; neither need ye suppose that I have not caused more to be written.

11 For I command all men, both in the east and in the west, and in the north, and in the south, and in the islands of the sea, that they shall write the words which I speak unto them; for out of the books which shall be written I will judge the world, every man according to their works, according to that which is written.

12 For behold, I shall speak unto the Jews and they shall write it; and I shall also speak unto the Nephites and they shall write it; and I shall also speak unto the other tribes of the house of Israel, which I have led away, and they shall write it; and I shall also speak unto all nations of the earth and they shall write it.

13 And it shall come to pass that the Jews shall have the words of the Nephites, and the Nephites shall have the words of the Jews; and the Nephites and the Jews shall have the words of the lost tribes of Israel; and the lost tribes of Israel shall have the words of the Nephites and the Jews.

14 And it shall come to pass that my people, which are of the house of Israel, shall be gathered home unto the lands of their possessions; and my word also shall be gathered in one. And I will show unto them that fight against my word and against my people, who are of the house of Israel, that I am God, and that I covenanted with Abraham that I would remember his seed forever.

2 Esdras 14:45-48

45 And it came to pass, when the forty days were filled, that the Highest spake, saying, The first that thou hast written publish openly, that the worthy and unworthy may read it: 46 But keep the seventy last, that thou mayest deliver them only to such as be wise among the people: 47 For in them is the spring of understanding, the fountain of wisdom, and the stream of knowledge. 48 And I did so.

It's Amazing What People Will Admit to When They Think They Are Israel, And The Blessings Are Theirs

MARKS AND SIGNS OF THE WOMAN'S SEED

The Seed of the Woman has left signs and footprints along the pathway of history. Having already identified the Seed of the Woman in scripture as Israel, we need to investigate their signs and symbols. Unless we can properly identify Biblical Israel on the world stage, there will be no change in the course of our civilization. The unconditional promises which God made with Abraham were to be fulfilled in the national destiny of a people called Israel. These promises were national and there is no scriptural authority whatever for transferring them to the Jewish people, for they have never brought blessings to the world. The true Israelites, in contrast, have been a blessing to all nations.

The Israelites of scripture can be identified today among that group of people who now fulfill every requirement of the Abrahamic covenant. As you will see, this group of people is found among the Anglo-Saxon, Germanic, Scandinavian people of the western world, the recipients of the divine blessings and the heirs of the covenant. They are the executors of the commissions, the inheritors of the charters, the possessors of the Biblical guarantees, and the seed upon whom the blessings of God have fallen. These people are the subject of Biblical history and the focus of the prophets. They are the people upon whom the eyes of God and His Word have shined.

Indeed, Israelites are the people with immunity from destruction.

When these unconditional promises were given to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, the Jewish people were not even in existence as a nation. Without understanding who true Israel is in the Holy Bible, you will never understand scripture, and the Bible forever will remain a sealed book. The Bible is very much like a family history book. Its primary people are the Israelites. It names and mentions many other people, but only as they came in contact with Israel. If you were writing a family history of your people, you might refer to other people in the narrative, but your book would chronicle the history of your own family and no other. Such is the Bible. It is a book about the history of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob Israel. Every book contained in the Bible was authored by an Israelite. If we fail to identify the Israelites of the Bible, we shall have missed the greatest discovery of this age.

1 John 4:1-6

1 Beloved, believe not every spirit, but try the spirits whether they are of God: because many false prophets are gone out into the world.

2 Hereby know ye the Spirit of God: Every spirit that confesseth that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh is of God:

3 And every spirit that confesseth not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh is not of God: and this is that spirit of antichrist, whereof ye have heard that it should come; and even now already is it in the world.

4 Ye are of God, little children, and have overcome them: because greater is he that is in you, than he that is in the world.

5 They are of the world: therefore speak they of the world, and the world heareth them.

6 We are of God: he that knoweth God heareth us; he that is not of God heareth not us. Hereby know we the spirit of truth, and the spirit of error.

This Is God's Country..... The Truth About The Americas Place In Last Days Prophecy!

Nations Swept Off

Many prophecies in the Book of Mormon repeated the warning first given to the Jaredites then to the Nephites that if they should depart from God and go into the ways of selfishness and sin, they would be swept off in due time, for this was to be a land of righteousness and recognition of God--a land of liberty to all people. Later history tells of the final sweeping off of both nations. That this was true might easily be doubted by the investigator except for the abundant, mighty ruins of pre-Columbian civilizations of high order to be found in Mexico, and Central and South America.

That they were swept off after reaching such heights of achievement is to scientists and archaeologists one of the riddles of history. pg 131

Future Sweeping Off of Peoples

Among the prophecies of the Book of Mormon is the following, disclosing the destiny of America:

Behold this is a choice land, and whatsoever nation shall possess it, shall be free from bondage, and from captivity, and from all other nations under heaven, if they will but serve the God of the land, who is Jesus Christ.--Ether 1:35

Wherefore this land is consecrated unto whom he shall bring. And if it so be that they shall serve him according to the commandments which he has given, it shall be a land of liberty unto them.-- II Nephi 1:11-12

And now we can behold the decrees of God concerning this land, that it is a land of promise, and whatsoever nation shall possess it, shall serve God, or they shall be swept off when the fullness of his wrath shall come upon them.

And the fullness of his wrath cometh upon them when they are ripened in iniquity; for behold, this is a land which is choice above all other lands; wherefore he that doth possess it shall serve God, or shall be swept off; for it is the everlasting decree of God and it is not until the fullness of iniquity among the children of the land, that they are swept off. pg 136

And this cometh unto you, O ye Gentiles, that ye may know the decrees of God, that ye may repent, and not continue in your iniquities until the fullness come, that ye may not bring down the wrath of God upon you, as the inhabitants of the land have hitherto done.--Ether 1:31, 34

Referring to Teotihuacan's vast pyramid ruins in Mexico as a "Sermon in Stone," President Harry S. Truman in 1947 said that the world must have peace, or our civilization may share the fate that Teotihuacan's vast ruins represent. This was strikingly in harmony with the prophecies we have quoted. Other statesmen have likewise spoken: General MacArthur on that memorable occasion of the formal surrender of Japan aboard the U. S. Battleship "Missouri," September 1, 1945, said:

We have had our last chance. If we do not now devise some greater and more equitable system, Armageddon will be at our door. ...The problem basically is theological and involves a spiritual recrudescence and improvement of human character that will synchronize with our almost matchless advance in science, art, literature, and all the material and cultural developments of the last two thousand years. It must be of the spirit if we would save the flesh.

How strangely like the language of the Book of Mormon first published over one hundred years ago!

The Reader's Digest of January 1948, under the heading "Our Final Choice" contains the following language:

"Man at long last has developed the instruments with which he can destroy the world and will destroy it unless the power to do so was taken from him. Already, the scientists in the mere babyhood of atomic power are thinking about bombs a hundred times more powerful than the Hiroshima type, which could blast New York off the earth and kill six million people.

Just as appalling the scientists tell us our developments in warfare by deadly bacteria. Whenever a civilization is faced with a new and fundamental challenge there is only one thing that can save it from decline and fall. It's men and women must change their habits of thoughts to meet the challenge. Either way they must meet their new world with a new thinking or they go under." The Sacred Book of Ancient America, Harold Iven Velt

Joel 2:18-27

18 Then will the LORD be jealous for his land, and pity his people.

19 Yea, the LORD will answer and say unto his people, Behold, I will send you corn, and wine, and oil, and ye shall be satisfied therewith: and I will no more make you a reproach among the heathen:

20 But I will remove far off from you the northern army, and will drive him into a land barren and desolate, with his face toward the east sea, and his hinder part toward the utmost sea, and his stink shall come up, and his ill savour shall come up, because he hath done great things.

21 Fear not, O land; be glad and rejoice: for the LORD will do great things.

22 Be not afraid, ye beasts of the field: for the pastures of the wilderness do spring, for the tree beareth her fruit, the fig tree and the vine do yield their strength.

23 Be glad then, ye children of Zion, and rejoice in the LORD your God: for he hath given you the former rain moderately, and he will cause to come down for you the rain, the former rain, and the latter rain in the first month.

24 And the floors shall be full of wheat, and the vats shall overflow with wine and oil.

25 And I will restore to you the years that the locust hath eaten, the cankerworm, and the caterpillar, and the palmerworm, my great army which I sent among you.

26 And ye shall eat in plenty, and be satisfied, and praise the name of the LORD your God, that hath dealt wondrously with you: and my people shall never be ashamed.

27 And ye shall know that I am in the midst of Israel, and that I am the LORD your God, and none else: and my people shall never be ashamed.

"The eyes of that extinct species of giant, whose bones fill the mounds of America, have gazed on Niagara as our eyes do now." Abraham Lincoln 1848

The book of Ether (15:26) declares that the Jaredite warriors were men of great stature. When Limhi's scouts found the remain of the Jaredites they were impressed with the "large breastplates" which they found among the ruins. So impressed were they with these large metal protectors, that they carried some of them home with them. These were made of brass and cooper and were perfectly sound. Were They Possibly Denisovan Hybrids?

The Cherokee called them the Moon People. The Utes and Paiutes spoke of a hideous race of cannibals ten feet tall living in caves. And the Choctaw also have an account of the race of giants that first colonized the Ohio Valley.

From OLD WORLD ROOTS OF THE CHEROKEE, chapter 5, “America’s Middle Ages,” pp. 78-79, we read:

What kind of Indians lived in the territory the Choctaw and Chickasaw carved out for their new home? According to their traditions, reports Cushman, as confirmed by excavations of bones in Tennessee, it was a “race of white giants”:

[T]he tradition of the Choctaws . . . told of a race of giants that once inhabited the now State of Tennessee, and with whom their ancestors fought when they arrived in Mississippi in their migration from the west, doubtless Old Mexico. Their tradition states the Nahullo (race of giants [literally, wizards]) was of wonderful stature; but, as their tradition of the mastodon [which used to be found on the Great Plains], so this was also considered to be but a foolish fable, the creature of a wild imagination, when lo! Their exhumed bones again prove the truth of the Choctaws’ tradition (151).

These giants could have been Rafinesque’s Atlans.

Cushman then recounts the discovery in 1880 at a burial mound site near Plano, Texas, of human bones “of enormous size . . . the femoral bones being five inches longer than the ordinary length, and the jaw bones . . . so large as to slip over the face of a man with ease.” Cushman goes on to identify them with the older occupants of North America called Allegewi or Taligewi (Talegans). Many historians, moreover, speculate they were the builders of the Adena mounds.

As for the Chickasaw, Cushman notes that they have no record of their history before the colonial period, although it is assuredly “the same as the Choctaws, being one tribe and people until the division made by their two chiefs Chikahah and Chahtah many years after their arrival and location east of the Mississippi River” (p 358). Of the Natchez, Cushman records that they, “if tradition may be believed, also came from Mexico where they had lived for centuries” (p 440).

A story was told by the Comanches in 1857:

Innumerable moons ago, a race of white men, ten feet high, and far more rich and powerful than any white people now living, here inhabited a large range of country, extending from the rising to the setting sun. Their fortifications crowned the summits of the mountains, protecting their populous cities situated in the intervening valleys. They excelled every other nation which was flourished, either before or since, in all manner of cunning handicraft—were brave and warlike—ruling over the land they had wrested from its ancient possessors with a high and haughty hand. Compared with them the palefaces of the present day were pygmies, in both art and arms. They drove the Indians from their homes, putting them to the sword, and occupying the valleys in which their fathers had dwelt before them since the world began. At length, in the height of their power and glory, when they remembered justice and mercy no more and became proud and lifted up, the Great Spirit descended from above, sweeping them with fire and deluge from the face of the earth. The mounds we [i.e. the speaker Chief Rolling Thunder and his Spanish listener] had seen on the tablelands were the remnants of their fortresses, and the crumbling ruins that surrounded us all that remained of a mighty city.

The word Nahoolo or Nahullo “is now emphatically applied to the white race and no other . . . The Nahullo were of white complexion, according to Choctaw tradition, and were still an existing people at the time of the advent of the Choctaws to Mississippi,” concludes Cushman (p 153) . In agreement, the Indian trader Adair often refers to the Nani Ishtahoolo as departed white ghosts vested with spiritual powers whose descendants were priests and magicians. Their cries and magic spells could still be heard in the mounds like those at Ocmulgee. These references contribute to the suspicion that the “Indians” who preceded Asiatic tribes from Mexico were, as we would say today, Caucasian.

About exactly a year ago on this blog, we published a post about “Neanderthals in America,” mentioning also the peculiar archaic skeleton that is now a roadside attraction in Arizona, called The Thing. In the meantime, we acquired a copy of FRITZ ZIMMERMAN’s book, THE NEPHILIM CHRONICLES, which reproduces over 300 historical accounts of Giant skeletons. Many are associated with the earliest mound sites in America, but Zimmerman’s survey of this worldwide phenomenon ranges from the Hunter-Fisher People of northeast Europe and Red Paint People whose movements were circumpolar to the giants of the Bible, noted by the Babylonian Talmud as having double rows of teeth, and “Giants’ Remains in the British Isles” (pp. 157-65).

Navajo legends speak of the Starnake People, a regal race of white giants endowed with mining technology who dominated the West, enslaved lesser tribes and had strongholds all through the Americas. They were either extinguished or “went back to the heavens.” The name may be a corruption of the Biblical race known as Anakim (Num. 13:33, Deut. 1:28). The name Og (Hebrew “chief”) appears to be characteristic (see Zimmerman, pp. 188-91). The OGHAM alphabet is attributed to this cultural founder.

Certainly, many of the mound sites uncovered in the nineteenth century tell a story of constant warfare by incoming Asiatic tribes against the giants occupying the land. One grisly scene showed thousands of skeletons, male, female and young heaped in a mass grave, with warriors’ skulls pierced by arrows. It would appear that as these aboriginal inhabitants of the Ohio Valley were gradually displaced, some members of their society went over into the ranks of the new conquerors, bequeathing a strain of great stature still noticeable, for instance, in the Mobilian chief Tuscaloosa and DeSoto’s Indian queen Cofitachiqui, both of whom were said to be seven feet tall.

We are struck by the following traits of this giant race or ethnic group from human prehistory:

- Mother Goddess religion
- Copper (not bronze) axes
- Polished slate tools including fishing plummets, which were apparently regarded as sacred
- Belief that the Grandmother Moon was the repository of souls
- Diet emphasizing shellfish (for which the double row of teeth probably was selected as an evolutionary advantage in their beachcomber origin out of Africa?)
- Building of fish weirs in North American rivers to trap migrating eels
- Certain vegetarian habits (wild rice, for instance)
- Inscriptions on artifacts, especially pipes, often buried with the dead
- Use of coal and petroleum
- Weaving and looms
- Knowledge of seafaring, mathematics and engineering, including canals and irrigation
- Burying of a dog with a child to guard the latter in the afterlife

When Denisovan Man was first discovered, we had just a fingerbone to go on. We can only extrapolate the look of the skull. Geneticists conjecture, however, that it was an Austronesian type. We suggest that a modern prize of science will belong to the geneticist who can derive ancient DNA to study and classify from the bones of giant hominids that are unavoidably plentiful in the archeological and mythological records of humankind. Maybe the owner of The Thing will allow researchers to borrow one of the femurs for laboratory analysis and measurement. If that's not possible, the Smithsonian, Carnegie Institute and dozens of local historical societies throughout the Midwest have basements and storage facilities brimming with these relics of American history.

1 Chronicles 20:6-8

6 And yet again there was war at Gath, where was a man of great stature, whose fingers and toes were four and twenty, six on each hand, and six on each foot and he also was the son of the giant.

7 But when he defied Israel, Jonathan the son of Shimea David's brother slew him.

8 These were born unto the giant in Gath; and they fell by the hand of David, and by the hand of his servants.

2 Samuel 21:20

20 And there was yet a battle in Gath, where was a man of great stature, that had on every hand six fingers, and on every foot six toes, four and twenty in number; and he also was born to the giant.

THE LAND OF PROMISE

The unconditional election of Israel moves forward in scripture with the choice and promise of a particular land often called the promise land: This promise land is not to be confused with the birthright lands later promised to Joseph and his posterity. The scripture makes a clear distinction between the promise land and the birthright lands. The promised land is that area of the earth specifically given by unconditional covenant to Abraham and his seed forever (Genesis 12:7, 13:14-17, 17:7-8, 26:4-5, 35:12, Exodus 3:17, 6:8, and Psalm 105). This promise land, called the glory of all lands (Ezekiel 20:6),

Ezekiel 20:6

6 In the day that I lifted up mine hand unto them, to bring them forth of the land of Egypt into a land that I had espied for them, flowing with milk and honey, which is the glory of all lands:

is the geo-political center of the earth and that place chosen for the future headquarters of the Kingdom of God. The Bible promises that there will be a literal regathering of Biblical Israel in the land of their fathers at the coming of the Messiah and King in power and glory. This land occupies millions of square miles and runs from Jerusalem south to the river of Egypt and east to the great River Euphrates. It embraces most of the major and minor countries of the entire Middle East and has been designed as the headquarters for the coming world Kingdom of Jesus Christ.

This promise land was given by unconditional promise to Abraham and his seed after him. Abraham did not inherit this land in his lifetime (Act 7:5 and Hebrews 11:8), though it is clear that this promised will be fulfilled in the full redemption of Israel and the restoration of the Kingdom of God. That Israel was to be regathered to the land of their fathers in the days is clearly taught in the law and in the prophets. (Deuteronomy 30:1-5, Isaiah 11:12, 43:5-7, Jeremiah 31:8-12, and Ezekiel 36:21-24).

The return of Judah with a portion of Benjamin and Levi at the end of the Babylonian Captivity is not to be confused with the general regathering of all twelve tribes at the end of the age. Neither is the fraudulent regathering of the Edomites into Palestine during the 20th century the fulfillment of the above cited scriptures. Political Zionists has nothing to do with these verses. The Bible clearly indicates that all the redeemed in Israel, both those dead and those living when Jesus Christ returns, will be regathered in the land of their fathers, that original promise land deeded to perpetuity to Abraham and his seed. This regathering was promised when Israel was yet dwelling in that land (Deuteronomy 30:1-5).

Deuteronomy 30:1-5

1 And it shall come to pass, when all these things are come upon thee, the blessing and the curse, which I have set before thee, and thou shalt call them to mind among all the nations, whither the LORD thy God hath driven thee,

2 And shalt return unto the LORD thy God, and shalt obey his voice according to all that I command thee this day, thou and thy children, with all thine heart, and with all thy soul;

3 That then the LORD thy God will turn thy captivity, and have compassion upon thee, and will return and gather thee from all the nations, whither the LORD thy God hath scattered thee.

4 If any of thine be driven out unto the outmost parts of heaven, from thence will the LORD thy God gather thee, and from thence will he fetch thee:

5 And the LORD thy God will bring thee into the land which thy fathers possessed, and thou shalt possess it; and he will do thee good, and multiply thee above thy fathers.

Many well-meaning souls have sought to confuse the promise land with the birthright lands promised to Jacob Israel in Genesis 35:11 and 48:16-19, and Deuteronomy 33:13-17. these include all the great land areas that have been colonized since the early 1600's by modern Biblical Israel under such names as the English, Irish, Welsh, Scots, Dutch, German, French, Swedes, Danes, Norwegians, and others who constitute the body of the Seed of the Woman (Biblical Israel). These birthright lands specifically include such areas as the British Isles, Scandinavia, Europe, the United States of America, the Dominion of Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and (other African states now lost to the Blacks), portions of South America, and a few other areas. Those who have failed to divide between the promise land and the birthright lands have confused the prophecies relating to Israel at the end of the age. Scripture clearly confirms that Biblical Israel will be gathered from all these birthright lands and carried by supernatural power (Matthews 24:30, 31, Mark 13:27, Luke 13:28, 29) to the land of their fathers, the original promise land given forever to Abraham and his posterity. The Two Seeds of Genesis 3:15, Dan Gayman

John 10:16, when speaking to his disciples in Palestine Jesus said, And other sheep I have, which are not of this fold: them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice; and there shall be one fold, and one shepherd, John 10:16.

These “other sheep” could not have been the Gentiles, for Jesus said: “I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel.” --Matt. 15:24. Though the disciples of Jesus, after his resurrection, were sent into all the world to preach the gospel to every creature, his own personal ministry was to Israel only.

It would be only natural for those “other sheep” to keep a record of his visit and teaching as did those at Jerusalem. That this was to be so is indicated in Ezekiel 37:15-22, where “the stick of Joseph” is mentioned. It was to be joined together with “the stick of Judah.” The Bible is almost entirely the record of the Jews or Judah, and it is a fact that records in olden times were rolled upon sticks and therefore called “sticks.” (See Dictionary of the Bible, subject “Writing.”). The Bible then, being the record or “stick” of Judah, there was to be a similar record kept by the people of Joseph which would be joined with the Bible, and the two would be “one” in God’s hand. The Scripture reads as follows: The word of the LORD came again unto me, saying, Moreover, thou son of man, take thee one stick, and write upon it, For Judah, and for the children of Israel his companions: then take another stick, and write upon it, For Joseph, the stick of Ephraim and for all the house of Israel his companions: And join them one to another into one stick; and they shall become one in thine hand. And when the children of thy people shall speak unto thee, saying, Wilt thou not shew us what thou meanest by these? Say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I will take the stick of Joseph, which is in the hand of Ephraim, and the tribes of Israel his fellows, and will put them with him, even with the stick of Judah, and make them one stick, and they shall be one in mine hand. And the sticks whereon thou writest shall be in thine hand before their eyes.--Ezek. 37:15-20

Joseph being also of Israel as was Judah his brother, and his record being of such importance as to be put together with the Bible or “stick of Judah,” it may be assumed that Joseph’s descendants were among those referred to by Jesus as his “other sheep” who were to hear his voice. The record kept by them would naturally be expected to include the history of Jesus’ visit to them. The Book of Mormon is the only book claiming to have been written by descendants of Joseph, giving the history of the visit of Jesus to their country, and his works and teachings among them.

No great stretch of imagination is required to suppose descendants of Joseph colonized America, for America is the only land that answers the description of certain Bible prophecies; some of which are mentioned especially in connection with Joseph’s posterity.

In Genesis 49:22 we have a clue as to where we may find the people of Joseph. This is important in our efforts to locate the record they would keep. We read:

Joseph is a fruitful bough, even a fruitful bough by a well; whose branched run over the wall.

Then verse 26 reads:

The blessings of thy father have prevailed above the blessings of my progenitors unto the utmost bound of the everlasting hills.

Joseph's descendants were to "run over the wall"--cross the ocean. The "utmost bound of the everlasting hills" from Palestine, whether east or west, would be somewhere in America.

The Sacred Book Of Ancient America, Harold I. Velt

In Deuteronomy 33:13-17 we find a description of Joseph's land, which from a standpoint of both mineral and vegetable productiveness also fits America as no other land. It reads:

And of Joseph he said, Blessed of the Lord be his land, for the precious things of heaven, for the dew, and the deep that coucheth beneath, and for the precious fruits brought forth by the sun, and for the precious things put forth by the moon, and for the chief things of the ancient mountains, and for the precious things of the lasting hills, and for the precious things of the earth and fulness thereof, and for the good will of him that dwelt in the bush: let the blessing come upon the head of Joseph, and upon the top of the head of him that was separated from his brethren.

It is well known that the Americas, both northern and southern continents, lead the nations of the world in mineral and agricultural products. It has been said that the United States alone produces more than one hundred and thirty-nine different minerals. The "Chief things of the ancient mountains" and the "precious things of the lasting hills" most certainly would mean gold, silver, lead, zinc, coal, etc., as well perhaps as timber.

Agriculturally it is of interest that at least half of the world's products today had their origin in America. Potatoes, corn, tomatoes, sweet potatoes, all the beans except the horse bean and the soybean, also pumpkins, squashes, peanuts, watermelons, and many other valuable products were first developed by the ancient people of America. For further details of marvelous agricultural achievements in ancient America see America's Lost Civilizations. The suggestion is strong, as we put together Bible prophecy and the above facts, that descendants of Joseph were among the people who left behind them some of the mighty ruins of Mexico, and Central and South America which are being excavated today, with the agricultural terraces and irrigation works which cause modern scientists to marvel.

Heavenly Blessings Upon Joseph

Most important among the prophecies we have just noticed are references to heavenly blessings upon Joseph's people. Jacob in blessing Joseph said:

Even by the God of thy father, who shall help thee; and by the Almighty, who shall bless thee with blessings of heaven above, blessings of the deep that lieth under, blessings of the breasts, and of the womb: Gen 49:25

And we have noted that Moses, speaking prophetically of Joseph's people, said:

And of Joseph he said, Blessed of the LORD be his land, for the precious things of heaven, for the dew, and for the deep that coucheth beneath, Deut. 33:13

It would be only reasonable to expect that the people of Joseph, being blessed with "blessings of heaven above" or "the precious things of heaven," would record such experiences as did the people of Judah in Palestine. Had the Jews not recorded their heavenly and miraculous experiences in Palestine we would not have the Bible today. It is of great importance that the Bible itself indicates that the people of Joseph also would have precious blessings from heaven above. As we have shown from Ezekiel's prophecy, there would be a record called the "stick of Joseph" which sometime would be put with the "stick of Judah" the Bible, Ezekiel 37:15-20

Jeremiah 15:2-3

2 And it shall come to pass, if they say unto thee, Whither shall we go forth? then thou shalt tell them, Thus saith the LORD; Such as are for death, to death; and such as are for the sword, to the sword; and such as are for the famine, to the famine; and such as are for the captivity, to the captivity.

3 And I will appoint over them four kinds, saith the LORD: the sword to slay, and the dogs to tear, and the fowls of the heaven, and the beasts of the earth, to devour and destroy.

“HISTORIANS have agreed that the Spanish conquest of the Indies was accomplished by men, horses, and dogs, in that order. The men have inspired hundreds of books; the horses, few; the dogs, none, to date. This book is designed to tell their story and that of their masters, whose glory the dogs shared.

It was been claimed that the reputed cruelty of the Spanish conquest is the exaggeration of a zealous friar, Bartolomè de las Casas; and indeed hyperbole does characterize most early accounts of the New World. Modern scholars have concluded that the Spaniards who came to impose their civilization on the Americas were men whose traditional heritage of cruelty had been given new impetus by quickly changing historical circumstances. Conquests inevitably involve evil; in that of the Indies, brutality expanded, sometimes into grotesques fiendishness, and contributing to certain of its most awesome aspect was the European dog.

It has not been our intention to perpetuate the so-called Black Legend of Spanish horrors but rather to relate the incidents in which dogs played a significant part in the conquest, as recorded by sixteenth century chroniclers--several of whom were eyewitnesses to the events--and as revealed in legal, military, and literary-historical documents of the period.

These at times disparate accounts were written not by alien and hostile critics but by Spain's own venerated historians. It should be noted, moreover, that during this period the use of dogs in warfare was not unique to Spain but was prevalent throughout the world, particularly in Western Europe.

That "man's best friend" functioned in the conquest as a lethal weapon of war has surprised and even shocked many, but this was one of the uses to which, over the centuries, Europeans bred and cultivated dogs. They developed certain blood strains with breed names to signify the tasks for which the dogs were most useful, and they established a strain of pureblooded dogs that fanciers tried to keep untainted.

1 Nephi 13:11-15

11 And it came to pass that the angel said unto me: Behold the wrath of God is upon the seed of thy brethren.

12 And I looked and beheld a man among the Gentiles, who was separated from the seed of my brethren by the many waters; and I beheld the Spirit of God, that it came down and wrought upon the man; and he went forth upon the many waters, even unto the seed of my brethren, who were in the promised land.

13 And it came to pass that I beheld the Spirit of God, that it wrought upon other Gentiles; and they went forth out of captivity, upon the many waters.

14 And it came to pass that I beheld many multitudes of the Gentiles upon the land of promise; and I beheld the wrath of God, that it was upon the seed of my brethren; and they were scattered before the Gentiles and were smitten.

15 And I beheld the Spirit of the Lord, that it was upon the Gentiles, and they did prosper and obtain the land for their inheritance; and I beheld that they were white, and exceedingly fair and beautiful, like unto my people before they were slain.

Revelation 6:7-8

7 And when he had opened the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth beast say, Come and see.

8 And I looked, and behold a pale horse: and his name that sat on him was Death, and Hell followed with him. And power was given unto them over the fourth part of the earth, to kill with sword, and with hunger, and with death, and with the beasts of the earth.

2 Esdras 15:8-20

8 I will hold my tongue no more as touching their wickedness, which they profanely commit, neither will I suffer them in those things, in which they wickedly exercise themselves: behold, the innocent and righteous blood crieth unto me, and the souls of the just complain continually. 9 And therefore, saith the Lord, I will surely avenge them, and receive unto me all the innocent blood from among them. 10 Behold, my people is led as a flock to the slaughter: I will not suffer them now to dwell in the land of Egypt: 11 But I will bring them with a mighty hand and a stretched out arm, and smite Egypt with plagues, as before, and will destroy all the land thereof. 12 Egypt shall mourn, and the foundation of it shall be smitten with the plague and punishment that God shall bring upon it. 13 They that till the ground shall mourn: for their seeds shall fail through the blasting and hail, and with a fearful constellation. 14 Woe to the world and them that dwell therein! 15 For the sword and their destruction draweth nigh, and one people shall stand up and fight against another, and swords in their hands. 16 For there shall be sedition among men, and invading one another; they shall not regard their kings nor princes, and the course of their actions shall stand in their power. 17 A man shall desire to go into a city, and shall not be able. 18 For because of their pride the cities shall be troubled, the houses shall be destroyed, and men shall be afraid. 19 A man shall have no pity upon his neighbour, but shall destroy their houses with the sword, and spoil their goods, because of the lack of bread, and for great tribulation. 20 Behold, saith God, I will call together all the kings of the earth to reverence me, which are from the rising of the sun, from the south, from the east, and Libanus; to turn themselves one against another, and repay the things that they have done to them.

How smallpox devastated the Aztecs - and helped Spain conquer an American civilization 500 years ago

Science Feb 23, 2019 4:27 PM EDT

Recent outbreaks in the U.S. have drawn attention to the dangers of measles. The Democratic Republic of Congo is fighting a deadly outbreak of Ebola that has killed hundreds.

Epidemics are nothing new, of course. And some widespread infectious diseases have profoundly changed the course of human history.

Five hundred years ago, in February of 1519, the Spaniard Hernán Cortés set sail from Cuba to explore and colonize Aztec civilization in the Mexican interior. Within just two years, Aztec ruler Montezuma was dead, the capital city of Tenochtitlan was captured and Cortés had claimed the Aztec empire for Spain. Spanish weaponry and tactics played a role, but most of the destruction was wrought by epidemics of European diseases.

Conquest of the Aztec empire

After helping conquer Cuba for the Spanish, Cortés was commissioned to lead an expedition to the mainland. When his small fleet landed, he ordered his ships scuttled, eliminating any possibility of retreat and conveying the depth of his resolve.

Cortés with his 500 men then headed into the Mexican interior. This region was home to the Aztec civilization, an empire of an estimated 16 million people at this time. Through a system of conquest and tribute, the Aztecs had established the great island city of Tenochtitlan in Lake Texcoco that ruled over an area of about 80,000 square miles.

Discovering widespread resentment toward the capital city and its ruler, Cortés formed alliances with many locals. Though vastly outnumbered, he and a small force marched on Tenochtitlan, where Montezuma received them with honor. In turn, Cortés took Montezuma prisoner.

It took Cortés two years, but he finally conquered the Aztec capital in August 1521. His ally in this fight was the European germs he and his men unwittingly brought with them.

Cortés's microscopic secret weapon

Although Cortés was a skilled leader, he and his force of perhaps a thousand Spaniards and indigenous allies would not have been able to overcome a city of 200,000 without help. He got it in the form of a smallpox epidemic that gradually spread inward from the coast of Mexico and decimated the densely populated city of Tenochtitlan in 1520, reducing its population by 40 percent in a single year.

Smallpox is caused by an inhaled virus, which causes fever, vomiting and a rash, soon covering the body with fluid-filled blisters. These turn into scabs which leave scars. Fatal in approximately one-third of cases, another third of those afflicted with the disease typically develop blindness.

Smallpox existed in ancient times in Egyptian, Indian and Chinese cultures. It remained endemic in human populations for millennia, coming to Europe during the 11th century's Crusades. When Europeans began to explore and colonize other parts of the world, smallpox traveled with them.

The native people of the Americas, including the Aztecs, were especially vulnerable to smallpox because they'd never been exposed to the virus and thus possessed no natural immunity. No effective anti-viral therapies were available.

Recalling the epidemic, one victim reported:

“The plague lasted for 70 days, striking everywhere in the city and killing a vast number of our people. Sores erupted on our faces, our breasts, our bellies; we were covered with agonizing sores from head to foot.”

A Franciscan monk who accompanied Cortés provided this description:

“As the Indians did not know the remedy of the disease, they died in heaps, like bedbugs. In many places it happened that everyone in a house died, and as it was impossible to bury the great number of dead, they pulled down the houses over them, so that their homes became their tombs.”

Smallpox took its toll on the Aztecs in several ways. First, it killed many of its victims outright, particularly infants and young children. Many other adults were incapacitated by the disease - because they were either sick themselves, caring for sick relatives and neighbors, or simply lost the will to resist the Spaniards as they saw disease ravage those around them. Finally, people could no longer tend to their crops, leading to widespread famine, further weakening the immune systems of survivors of the epidemic.

Disease can drive human history

Of course, the Aztecs were not the only indigenous people to suffer from the introduction of European diseases. In addition to North America's Native American populations, the Mayan and Incan civilizations were also nearly wiped out by smallpox. And other European diseases, such as measles and mumps, also took substantial tolls - altogether reducing some indigenous populations in the new world by 90 percent or more. Recent investigations have suggested that other infectious agents, such as Salmonella - known for causing contemporary outbreaks among pet owners - may have caused additional epidemics.

The ability of smallpox to incapacitate and decimate populations made it an attractive agent for biological warfare. In the 18th century, the British tried to infect Native American populations. One commander wrote, "We gave them two blankets and a handkerchief out of the smallpox hospital. I hope it will have the desired effect." During World War II, British, American, Japanese and Soviet teams all investigated the possibility of producing a smallpox biological weapon.

Happily, worldwide vaccination efforts have been successful, and the last naturally occurring case of the disease was diagnosed in 1977. The final case occurred in 1978, when a photographer died of the disease, prompting the scientist whose research she was covering to take his own life.

Many great encounters in world history, including Cortés's clash with the Aztec empire, had less to do with weaponry, tactics and strategy than with the ravages of disease. Nations that suppose they can secure themselves strictly through investments in military spending should study history - time and time again the course of events has been definitively altered by disease outbreaks. Microbes too small to be seen by the naked eye can render ineffectual even the mightiest machinery of war.

The Apocalypses of Paul 15, 16

15 And he said to me, “Look again down on the earth, and watch the soul of an impious man going out of the body, which grieved the Lord day and night, saying, “I know nothing else in this world, I eat and drink, and enjoy what is in the world; for who is there who has descended into hell and, ascending, has declared to us that there is judgment there!’ ” And again I looked carefully, and saw all the scorn of the sinner, and all that he did, and they stood together before him in the hour of need; and it was done to him in that hour, when he was led out of his body at the judgment, and he said, “It were better for me if I had not been born.” And after these things, there came at the same time the holy angels and the evil angels, and the soul of the sinner saw both and the holy angels did not find a place in it. Moreover the evil angels cursed it; and when they had drawn it out of the body the angels admonished it a third time, saying, “O wretched soul, look upon your flesh from which you have come out; for it is necessary that you should return to your flesh in the day of resurrection, that you may receive what is the due for your sins and your impieties.”

16 And when they had led it forth the guardian angel preceded it, and said to it, “O wretched soul, I am the angel belonging to you, relating daily to the Lord your evil works, whatever you did by night or day; and if it were in my power, not for one day would I minister to you, but none of these things was I able to do: the judge is full of pity and just, and he himself commanded us that we should not cease to minister to the soul till you should repent, but you have lost the time of repentance. I have become a stranger to you and you to me. Let us go on then to the just judge; I will not dismiss you before I know from today I am to be a stranger to you.” And the spirit afflicted it, and the angel troubled it. When they had arrived at the powers, when it started to enter heaven, a burden was imposed upon it, above all other burden: error and oblivion and murmuring met it, and the spirit of fornication, and the rest of the powers, and said to it, “Where are you going, wretched soul, and do you dare to rush into heaven? Hold, that we may see if we have our qualities in you, since we do not see that you have a holy helper.” And after that I heard voices in the height of heaven saying, “Present that wretched soul to God, so it may know that it is God whom it despised.” When, therefore, it had entered heaven all the angels saw it; a thousand thousand exclaimed with one voice, all saying, “Woe to you, wretched soul, for the sake of your works which you did on earth; what answer are you about to give to God when you have approached to adore him?” The angel who was with it answered and said, “Weep with me, my beloved, for I have not found rest in this soul.” And the angels answered him and said, “Let such a soul be taken away from our midst, for from the time it entered the stink of it crosses to us angels.” And after these things it was presented, that it might worship in the sight of God, and an angel of God showed it God who made it after his own image and likeness. Moreover its angel ran before it saying, “Lord God Almighty, I am the angel of this soul, whose works I presented to you day and night, not acting in accordance with your judgment. And the spirit likewise said, “I am the spirit who dwelt in it from the time it was made; in itself I know it, and it has not followed my will; judge it, Lord, according to your judgment.” And there came the voice of God to it and said, “Where is your fruit which you have made worthy of the goods which you have received? Have I put a distance of one day between you and the just person? Did I not make the sun to arise upon you as upon the just?"

But the soul was silent, having nothing to answer, and again there came a voice saying, "Just is the judgment of God, and there is no respect of persons with God, for whoever shall have done mercy, on him shall have mercy, and whoever shall not have been merciful, neither shall God pity him. Let it therefore be handed over to the angel Tartaruchus, who is set over the punishments, and let him cast it into outer darkness, where there is weeping and gnashing of teeth, and let it be there till the great day of judgment." And after these things I heard the voice of angels and archangels saying, "You are just, Lord, and your judgment is just." pp. 290-291 Ehrman, Bart D.. (Lost Scriptures).

Psalm 91 in reverse 4real!

I meant to send you this since yesterday, then I hesitated and didn't. Now that you mentioned psalm 91, here it is.

He who DOES NOT dwell in the secret place of The Most High Shall NOT abide under the shadow of the Almighty. You will say of The Lord HE IS NOT your refuge and your fortress your God In whom you will trust. Surely He WILL NOT save you from the Fowler's snare and from the deadly pestilence. He WILL NOT cover you with His feathers and under His wings you WILL NOT find refuge. His faithfulness WILL NOT be your shield and rampart.

YOU WILL FEAR the terror of night, YOU WILL FEAR the terror that flies by day, YOU WILL FEAR the pestilence that stalks in the darkness, YOU WILL FEAR The Plague that destroys at midday. A 1000 may fall at your side and 10,000 at your right side but IT WILL come near you. YOU WILL NOT only observe with your eye and see the punishment of the wicked.

If you DO NOT make The Most High your dwelling , even The Lord who is my refuge then HARM WILL befall you, DISASTER WILL COME to your tent. For HE WILL NOT command His Angels concerning you to guard you in all your ways, They WILL NOT lift you up in their hands, YOU WILL strike your foot against a stone. YOU WILL not tread upon the Lion and the cobra, YOU WILL not trample the great lion and the serpent.

Because He DOES NOT LOVE ME says the Lord, I WILL NOT rescue him, for HE DOES NOT ACKNOWLEDGE my Name. He will call upon me and I WILL NOT answer him. I WILL NOT be with him in trouble, I WILL NOT DELIVER him and honor him, with long life I WILL NOT satisfy him and I WILL NOT show him ~~my salvation.~~

Deuteronomy 28:28-29

28 The LORD shall smite thee with madness, and blindness, and astonishment of heart:

29 And thou shalt grope at noonday, as the blind gropeth in darkness, and thou shalt not prosper in thy ways: and thou shalt be only oppressed and spoiled evermore, and no man shall save thee.

In this way was the yoke of servitude fixed upon the island, and its thralldom effectually ensured. Deep despair now fell upon the natives when they found a perpetual task inflicted upon them, enforced at stated and frequently recurring periods. Weak and indolent by nature, unused to labour of any kind, and brought up in the un-tasked idleness of their soft climate and their fruitful groves, death itself seemed preferable to a life of toil and anxiety. They saw no end to this harassing evil, which had so suddenly fallen upon them; no escape from its all-pervading influence; no prospect of return to that roving independence and ample leisure, so dear to the wild inhabitants of the forest. The pleasant life of the island was at an end; the dream in the shade by day; the slumber during the sultry noontide heat by the fountain or the stream, or under the spreading palm-tree; and the song, the dance, and the game in the mellow evening, when summoned to their simple amusements by the rude Indian drum. They were now obliged to grop day by day, with bending body and anxious eyes, along the borders of their rivers, sifting the sands for the grains of gold which every day grew more scanty; or to labour in their fields beneath the fervour of a tropical sun, to raise food for their taskmasters, or to produce the vegetable tribute imposed upon them. They sunk to sleep weary and exhausted at night, with the certainty that the next day was buy to be a repetition of the same toil and suffering. Or if they occasionally indulged in their national dances, the ballads to which they kept time were of a melancholy and plaintive character. They spoke of the times that were past before the white men had introduced sorrow and slavery, and weary labour among them; and they rehearsed pretended prophecies, handed down from their ancestors, foretelling the invasion of the Spaniards; that strangers would come into their island, clothed in apparel, with swords capable of cleaving a man asunder at a blow, under whose yoke their posterity should be subdued. These ballads, or areytos, they sang with mournful tunes and doleful voices, bewailing the loss of their liberty and their painful servitude.

They had flattered themselves, for a time, that the visit of the strangers would be but temporary, and that spreading their ample sails, their ships would once more bear them back to their home in the sky. In their simplicity, they had repeatedly inquired when they intended to return to Turey, or the heavens. They now beheld them taking root, as it were, in the island. They now beheld them taking root, as it were, in the island. They beheld their vessels lying idle and rotting in the harbour, while the crews, scatter about country, were building habitation and fortresses and gave the solid construction of which unlike their own site cabins gave evidence of permanent residents.

PSALM 137 (Ole Negro Spirituals)

1 By the rivers of Babylon, there we sat down, yea, we wept, when we remembered Zion.

2 We hanged our harps upon the willows in the midst thereof.

3 For there they that carried us away captive required of us a song; and they that wasted us required of us mirth, saying, Sing us one of the songs of Zion.

4 How shall we sing the LORD's song in a strange land?

5 If I forget thee, O Jerusalem, let my right hand forget her cunning.

6 If I do not remember thee, let my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth; if I prefer not Jerusalem above my chief joy.

7 Remember, O LORD, the children of Edom in the day of Jerusalem; who said, Rase it, rase it, even to the foundation thereof.

8 O daughter of Babylon, who art to be destroyed; happy shall he be, that rewardeth thee as thou hast served us.

9 Happy shall he be, that taketh and dasheth thy little ones against the stones.

1 Nephi 13:11-15

11 And it came to pass that the angel said unto me: Behold the wrath of God is upon the seed of thy brethren.

12 And I looked and beheld a man among the Gentiles, who was separated from the seed of my brethren by the many waters; and I beheld the Spirit of God, that it came down and wrought upon the man; and he went forth upon the many waters, even unto the seed of my brethren, who were in the promised land.

13 And it came to pass that I beheld the Spirit of God, that it wrought upon other Gentiles; and they went forth out of captivity, upon the many waters.

14 And it came to pass that I beheld many multitudes of the Gentiles upon the land of promise; and I beheld the wrath of God, that it was upon the seed of my brethren; and they were scattered before the Gentiles and were smitten.

15 And I beheld the Spirit of the Lord, that it was upon the Gentiles, and they did prosper and obtain the land for their inheritance; and I beheld that they were white, and exceedingly fair and beautiful, like unto my people before they were slain.

As Prophecy Is Being Fulfilled, You Are Realizing The Churches Have Lied About Everything Part: 2

At the same time he exerted himself to the utmost to send by the ships satisfactory proofs of the value of his discoveries. He remitted by them all the gold that he could collect, with specimens of other metals, and of various fruits and valuable plants, which he had collected either in Hispaniola or in the course of his voyage. In his eagerness to produce immediate profit, and to indemnify the sovereign for those expenses which bore hard upon the royal treasury, he sent, likewise, above five hundred Indian prisoners, who, he suggested, might be sold as slaves at Seville.

It is painful to find the brilliant renown of Columbus sullied by so foul a stain, and the glory of his enterprises degraded by such flagrant violations of humanity. The customs of the times, however, must be pleaded in his apology. The precedent had been given long before, by both Spaniards and Portuguese, in their African discoveries, wherein the traffic in slaves had formed one of the greatest sources of profit. In fact the practice had been sanctioned by the highest authority, by that of the church itself, and the most learned theologians had pronounced all barbarous and infidel nations, who shut their ears to the truths of Christianity, as fair objects of war and repine, of captivity and slavery. If Columbus needed and practical illustration of this doctrine, he had it in the conduct of Ferdinand himself, in his late wars with the Moors of Granada, in which he had always been surrounded by a crowd of ghostly advisors, and had professed to do every thing for the glory and advancement of the faith. In this holy war, as it was termed, it was common practice to make inroads into the Moorish territories and carry off cacalgadas, not merely of flocks and herds, but of human beings, and those not warriors taken with weapons in their hands, but quiet villagers, labouring peasantry, and helpless women and children. These were carried to the mart at Seville, or to other populous towns, and sold into slavery. The capture of Malaga was a memorable instance, where, as a punishment for an obstinate and brave defense, which should have excited admiration rather than revenge 11,000 people of both sexes and of all ranks and ages, many of them highly cultivated and delicately reared were suddenly torn from their homes, severed from each other and swept into menial slavery even though half of their ransoms have been paid. History of the Life and Voyages of Christopher Columbus pp. 260-261

Joel 3:3-7

3 And they have cast lots for my people; and have given a boy for an harlot, and sold a girl for wine, that they might drink.

4 Yea, and what have ye to do with me, O Tyre, and Zidon, and all the coasts of Palestine? will ye render me a recompence? and if ye recompense me, swiftly and speedily will I return your recompence upon your own head;

5 Because ye have taken my silver and my gold, and have carried into your temples my goodly pleasant things:

6 The children also of Judah and the children of Jerusalem have ye sold unto the Grecians, that ye might remove them far from their border.

7 Behold, I will raise them out of the place whither ye have sold them, and will return your recompence upon your own head:

1 Nephi 13:4-9

4 And it came to pass that I saw among the nations of the Gentiles the formation of a great church.

5 And the angel said unto me: Behold the formation of a church which is most abominable above all other churches, which slayeth the saints of God, yea, and tortureth them and bindeth them down, and yoketh them with a yoke of iron, and bringeth them down into captivity.

6 And it came to pass that I beheld this great and abominable church; and I saw the devil that he was the founder of it.

7 And I also saw gold, and silver, and silks, and scarlets, and fine-twined linen, and all manner of precious clothing; and I saw many harlots.

8 And the angel spake unto me, saying: Behold the gold, and the silver, and the silks, and the scarlets, and the fine-twined linen, and the precious clothing, and the harlots, are the desires of this great and abominable church.

9 And also for the praise of the world do they destroy the saints of God, and bring them down into captivity.

The Earth Was Given To The Wicked, Now The Father Is Exposing The World, It's A Corpse! Part 3

Noah continued to carry out his new calling with courage and fixed purpose. But Lucifer attacked him from another direction. He inspired the wicked to recall that they too were descendants of men who were originally entitled to be called “sons of God.” Therefore they leaped forward to challenge Noah with diabolical glee. Said they, “Behold, we are the sons of God; have we not taken unto ourselves the daughters of men? And are we not eating and drinking, and marrying and giving in marriage? And our wives bear unto us children, and the same are mighty men, which are like unto men of old, men of great renown!”<sup>37</sup> Here was the fallacious philosophy of the pragmatist: “Anything which succeeds is good, anything which fails is bad.” And these wicked descendants of once righteous men had much to boast of. At the moment they were in physical possession of the earth. Now that the commonwealth of Enoch was gone they had spread their tyrannical power everywhere. They robbed the earth of her treasures, lived riotously, and scornfully pointed out to Noah that it was they who were enjoying the “good and abundant life.” What could Noah offer them? They had everything!

It is interesting to note that the gospel preached by Noah—which is described as being the same as the gospel of Enoch—is identical with the message preached in the days of Christ and also in our own dispensation: “It came to pass that Noah continued his preaching unto the people, saying: Hearken, and give heed unto my words; believe and repent of your sins and be baptized in the name of Jesus Christ, the Son of God, even as our fathers, and ye shall receive the Holy Ghost.”

Note the similarity between the words of Noah and the words of Peter. When the chief of the Apostles was preaching to the multitudes in Jerusalem he said: “Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost.”<sup>39</sup> This clearly demonstrates that in every dispensation the gospel message has been fundamentally the same. {p. 162} Skousen, W. Cleon. The First 2,000 Years:

Deuteronomy 28:58-63

58 If thou wilt not observe to do all the words of this law that are written in this book, that thou mayest fear this glorious and fearful name, THE LORD THY GOD;

59 Then the LORD will make thy plagues wonderful, and the plagues of thy seed, even great plagues, and of long continuance, and sore sicknesses, and of long continuance.

60 Moreover he will bring upon thee all the diseases of Egypt, which thou wast afraid of; and they shall cleave unto thee.

61 Also every sickness, and every plague, which is not written in the book of this law, them will the LORD bring upon thee, until thou be destroyed.

62 And ye shall be left few in number, whereas ye were as the stars of heaven for multitude; because thou wouldest not obey the voice of the LORD thy God.

63 And it shall come to pass, that as the LORD rejoiced over you to do you good, and to multiply you; so the LORD will rejoice over you to destroy you, and to bring you to nought; and ye shall be plucked from off the land whither thou goest to possess it.

Proverbs 1:25-33

25 But ye have set at nought all my counsel, and would none of my reproof:

26 I also will laugh at your calamity; I will mock when your fear cometh;

27 When your fear cometh as desolation, and your destruction cometh as a whirlwind; when distress and anguish cometh upon you.

28 Then shall they call upon me, but I will not answer; they shall seek me early, but they shall not find me:

29 For that they hated knowledge, and did not choose the fear of the LORD:

30 They would none of my counsel: they despised all my reproof.

31 Therefore shall they eat of the fruit of their own way, and be filled with their own devices.

32 For the turning away of the simple shall slay them, and the prosperity of fools shall destroy them.

33 But whoso hearkeneth unto me shall dwell safely, and shall be quiet from fear of evil

Mormon Hill

Cumorah (/kəˈmɔːrə/;[1] also known as Mormon Hill,[2][3][4] Gold Hill,[5][6] and Inspiration Point[2]) is a drumlin in Manchester, New Hampshire, United States,[7] where Joseph Smith said he found a set of golden plates that he translated into English and published as the Book of Mormon.

In the text of the Book of Mormon, "Cumorah" is a hill located in the land of the same name, which is "a land of many waters, rivers and fountains." On this hill, a Book of Mormon figure, Mormon, deposited a number of golden plates containing the record of his nation of Nephites,[9] just prior to a battle with the Lamanites in which at least 230,000 people were killed.
